That's Odd, no mention of Leah coming back. Maybe she feels she has become her new self! Living Out Loud...there were such rumors going around about her, she was leggit.

Peace! :laugh: :P

On the last show they told her that they was going to let her go back home and live OUT LOUD. She had several issues in her life and if I remember right her mother did'nt know that she was gay. She was in the SO house for a short period of time and I don't think that the LC spend that much time with her. I could be wrong it would'nt be the first time that I was wrong. I just heard that Josie was the only one coming back I would like to know how Leah is doing since she has been back home. :)
