
Rain and her Composure

I am so amazed by how well Rain has learned to speak in public.
She has this air about her now that you would never know she use to speak in such slang terms.
I find she now get her point across without getting confused about what words she wants to use.
She has matured into the great person she always wanted to become.
Way to go Rain your children must be so proud of their momma :)

I love her hair style now :) :)

I think rain and josie were amazing. I saw the last ten minutes of teh show with josie and rain. I think rain has done an amazing job and josie seemed calmer with rain. I think rain has improved the most outside of the show.
I feel josie is lucky to have someone like rain to help guide her thru life of being a single parent.
