Well she came to Starting over to become a comic so she couldn't have gone to the other one cause she wasn't ready. But now that she graduated she should've tried for the second season of it. If you go to her website she says that she is still afraid of getting on stage. Maybe she felt like she wasn't ready. I have been watching last cominc standing since it started and they are really good. Even the really funny ones don't make it. Not that Maureen isn't funny, but she probably needs more time. ;)
