Check out this website there is a picture of amy blonde.

Personally I like her better with the red hair. The red matches her personality. She looks like a plain jane with blonde hair and that is so not her.

What do you think?

That's a cute picture of both of them, but I agree, I like Amy with her bright red hair. Considering that picture is from 2001, I'm assuming it's still red!

That is a cute picture, but she does look great with her red hair.

Where did you get this website? I'm always amazed to see how the SO fans manage to get these websites and spoilers of the HG. Some people should be private detectives or something. ;)

I use the search engines (google,yahoo...) and type in what I know. Start with Starting Over then try different names. Every time I learn a lastname I write it down and Look it up. It is alot of fun.
