I think if you are going into cyberspace, this is the best place to start!! This was my very first experience about a year ago. I can't believe it's been that long! I was so against computers, I swore I would never have one in my house. Well, my husband decided it was time we joined the 21st. century and got one!! I wouldn't let anyone teach me nothing, I wanted nothing to do with the (work of the devil)!! I found myself fooling around with it one day, when I was watching starting over. I decided to give it a try, and I am soooo glad I did!! I have made friends on this site that I consider "real" friends. I have received comfort in time of troubles, joy in happy times, a lot of fun and jokes when I was feeling down from a recent back surgery. I found everything I needed on this site. I think it is the greatest one in all of the cyberworld!! There have been a few ups and downs, but you know what? That is the way life is. I am very proud to be a member of such a caring, thoughtful, helpful, sensitive ladies that give each other respect and prayers when needed. Thanks to each and everyone of you.

Honeyb

I have alot of admiration for you for putting your words out just the way they are --- to get the message across as to what you intend to say and continue on!

You know how I feel about you --- and I was BLESSED, truly, when I found this site! It like has 'MAGIC' or could it be the Holy Spirit combining us all together in "Cyberspace"???

NOW, I have to wonder what happened to my 'Cyberworld' Thread in this Topic!!!!

All I wanted to get across was to be careful in 'cyberspace' and wanted all the members here to know I had nothing to do with the former members demise!

BANDITA HD!

Well said, Bee. I was looking at honeybees at the fair today, and it reminded me of you! Funny how our lives are all intertwined. I too, have grown so much from the interaction on this site. Thank you for expressing your thoughts and sharing with us all.
