
Josie\'s pets

Posted by hsmom - 2004/09/10 18:17

On yesterday's show, Josie talked about all her babies? Anyonw here that? She says she has cats, dogs, fish, ferrets, and birds. Is she talking about the house in L.A.? Can't imagine that managerie in such a fancy house. Maybe there is a special section.

Can you see dogs and cats all over a fancy mansion? As much as you clean, there is still the hair and dander from the animals. What if all the women don't like all the pets? This could be some other place Josie was talking about.

Was this a spoiler?? Just a question??

I'm so confused:unsure:

I wonder how she keeps that many pets in her small apt? does she work at all how is she feeding them? Questions why are there always more questions than answers?

I heard her talk about them and my big question was
If you can afford ALL those pets how come you still need help from starting over house? :mad: :mad: Come on I know they are not in the new house but still she has a young baby there who could not protect herself if ANY well not the fish :P but the other PETS could bite or scratch her :mad:
Not being a good mom IMO :(

:ohmy: :unsure:

We don't know YET what the whole Scoop is on Josie! If she's working, :P or if JBoy is living w/her in Chi-Town? :(Or if Starting Over is footing ALL her bills, or she's getting paid from appearances, or what. :ohmy: Yes, for her to mention the menagerie of animals was out-of-sorts, not a thought-out comment knowing we are watching EVERY move she makes!!! :ohmy: :x Did you see all the WILD comments about it on the other? :mad:

:ohmy: IMO, pre-vet or not, that is way too many animals for a single Mother--Our Child Star! :) --to be owning...there has to be more to it! :ohmy:

I wonder if she has them for the loneliness factor. Or maybe she prefers pets to people. I wonder who is watching them while she is in California.

Well, she obviously didn't bring them on the plane, or to the new Starting Over house. Now if she had a snake or lizard, then we would have something to talk about.:):):)
