
Remembering a girl talking about casting

Posted by mydogkat - 2004/09/17 13:47

I have been searching old records in "Startingoverfans". I remember this gal coming in and stating that she went to a casting call, and was called back again. I looked all the way through and it is not there. It must have been deleted. On the original board she went be Crazy----, I can't remember what the second part of her name was. But I do remember it was her actual name.

Does anyone remember a gal talking on the original board by that name??/

I haven't seen any new posts from her in a long time. The post was made on the original board at the end of the season and on the other board right after the summer series started.

mydogkat:

I remember near the end of Season 1 when some posters were talking about letters from their Casting Calls but I would never be able to remember their names. Crazy-----

Horse, Crazy....Eyes, I really don't know mydogkat, but good luck! B)
