
Season Three Show Recap

Posted by hsmom - 2005/06/17 05:40

Here is a place to start the recaps for the fall. Are we all set? I won't be able to type them up, but can the ladies who helped last year keep it going? Maybe it is too early to ask.

Monday ilovstartingover
Tuesday dbmcmommy
Wednesday Payenanny
Thursday dbmcmommy
Friday netty

Thanks for keeping this going. I know lots who look here for the shows they missed.

hsmom-- Of course I will continue to do the Tuesday and Thursday spot. I just ask of the other recapers that you actually watch the show and type your own recap. Doggiemom and tvgal do a great job on the startingovertv site but it is their own recap on another site. I don't think it is fair to continue using their show spoilers to place here. I know it is easier and I've done it before when running out of time but it makes us look bad. No offense to anyone that has done this. And I encourage feedback. Anyone else have an opinion?

Sarah, or ilovstartingover, which is harder to type, can you type up Monday's show? I used to watch and take notes, then type the show. Then I watched and taped the show, and went back and typed it. I typed it in a word document, the site would close on me if I tried to type it straight into the forum. Now, I watch and type at the same time, still taping it if I have to rewind it. Just some suggestions.

I agree db, it should be our own words. I was feeling guilty about not typing it myself at the end of season 2.

Netty, my gal netty, I see you on the boards. Are you on for Fridays for season 3???????

I can try and pick up a missed day even now and then depends on my school schedule. I agree we need to have it in our own words. Right now i am in class all week but things might change

I'm glad you agree, momof2. I got some very negative feedback from another site and that blackened our image over there. That's why I brought it up.

Netty, are you on for season three? Or way too early to ask?

It is funny to hear everyones views on this. Just wondering if anyone of you ever contacted tvgal or Doggiemom? I did and asked t hem both if it would be alright if I could on occation copy the spoiler for the next days show. They were both very nice and did not mind at all.

So if for some reason some others from that site did not like it well that is hardly our fault here is it.It shows more of their mentality to blacken anyones name.
Have to take a pass on Mondays hs but I am sure there are many great typists here to could do a great job

Yes, I did too, hugs. Got personal letters from them both to post here. I think some did not read all the posts,and did not know we had their permission.

And those are the people that aren't here all the time anyway and probably don't want around with all the negativity!

We are looking for people who watch or tape the show, to type a recap of the show, for a record of what happened in your own words. Comments about the episode are allowed, but not necessary. I started doing them to improve my typing skills. Each show should have their own thread, with the title being the day it airs.

tuesday-dbmcmommy
wednesday-sweetpeach
thursday-dbmcmommy
friday-netty

Please post or pm me if you can help or have questions. Thanks. This is great for members who aren't able to see the episodes as well.

If anyone wants my Thursdays I am willing to share. I am usually off on Tuesdays so that works good for me. However, today we have dr's appointments during SO so I will have to do it later on today. Sorry everyone.

Thanks for everyone's help in the recap section. I tape the show, and hardly have time to watch it this season!

There is no time limit to post a recap. If you can't, you can't, that simple. A few times I had the VCR set to tape, but little fingers got in the way, and the show was not there! If you can't for a number of weeks, let someone know. Thanks again!!
