

---

Judge not:

Posted by Abstract2 - 2005/10/14 06:48

---

Hi,

I just tuned in to this group of women on the show,

How can the ladies of the house judge Summer?

no ones perfect, you would think that they've never heard of a woman sleeping with a married man before,

it's been going on since the begining of time, Summer came to the house to tell her story, and to get help just like they all are, I thought it was evil, and very girlie.

=====

Re:Judge not:

Posted by 2cents - 2005/10/14 17:16

---

If I remember correctly,a mistress was involved in breaking up 2 of the women's parents marriages.So it all hit close to home.By having Sommer in the house they had to face alot of their own fears.It's all good.That's how they all Start Over.Keep watching !!! They all get to wear letters.

....like TJ and Jessica in Season 3.Rhonda said by TJ's inappropriatness,Jessica has to face things and learn to deal with those issues.

=====

Re:Judge not:

Posted by netty - 2005/10/14 17:22

---

Good job 2cents! Sommer does go back a bit for most of us now, but....mistresses are judged poorly. It's a fact of life that the mistress has to bear this. As you say at her time as a houseguest, two were in fact dealing with a mistress being "to blame" in the deterioration of a marriage. It is only natural to begin to reflect that injury upon another "like her" so to speak. This part of Sommer's story was not even a highlight I don't believe. Her story was soooo much bigger than that one detail.

=====