Hi Everyone,

The episode where rhonda talks about what happens with her family and Andy's sister happens Monday. It is really good.

The camp the women are at is in Lake Geneva, south of Milwaukee, Wisconsin. They have homeschool retreats there, as well as lots of programs offered. I have never been there, but it looks interesting.

Thanks for the info on Monday's show. I think Rhonda was very close to telling Andy about herself today. She kept saying, "I understand, I feel your pain". I saw a book by Rhonda in Walmart yesterday, but not the one featured here. It looked very interesting, and it has her picture on the cover. Something about overcoming fear.

I think I am an episode ahead. The episode where she tells Andy has to do with Cassie finding a guy. So I think it would be Tuesdays instead of Monday. Sorry.
