
Jill's replacement ! Big surprise!

Posted by KPW1956 - 2006/02/28 18:20

I thought it would be fitting to make a separate thread for this development. Info is based on tivo spoilers for next week.

Kim's mother will be replacing Jill!

One thing that runs through my mind is that it will obviously be a place where they can be guided to a mutual understanding and new respect for one another. Although I sure hope Kim's mom owns up to her stuff. If Kim's dad is still alive (and I think it's been said he is..) he should be cringing now! I guess after all these years he may get his yet!

Wow, Kim's mom replaces Jill? That should be interesting. I thought it was mentioned that Kim's dad died, but I may be wrong.

Ohhh, what a great spoiler. Thanks.

This should be interesting, I hope some "real" work is done and they aren't just quickly run through and graduated...These two would have been served best if they had been in from week one...I mean they have way more to work through than fabulous Jill had, and she's been there for months and is still there (for the moment).

Can't wait !

I thought you were going to say Lisa1. I have lost interest in this show so, when Jill graduate I out. I hope Kim and her mom can get the help they need but I wont be watching. I will come on her to check and see when the couples are coming back because I want to see that.

Yes, for some reason, I think I remember that he had died. Whoo! Have those two got some stuff to get through! I haven't even begun to understand why Kim is so open to her mom's version of the past at this point.

Hmm....now ya got me thinkin!! I thought Kim talked about talking to her Dad sometimes but not really having a relationship with him. Well.....I'm certainly not sure about this.....but it will be interesting!

With all the parental dysfunction and divorces represented by the women... it's easy to get them mixed up.

I think Christie's father died in a car accident.

The repeat episode when Kim came into the house on the President's day holiday she mentioned that she did talk to her dad about every three months or so. Not real close...but kept in touch.

Just a thought this afternoon... This was such a surprise to find this info at TIVO... that Kim's mom was replacing Jill.

Now that it has had time to sink in... it could be that she won't be there as a typical houseguest with her own set of goals and everything. Maybe they'll just use the opportunity to help expedite Kim's process in a controlled environment with counselors. Maybe she'll be there only a short amount of time.. or until Kim graduates.

Wow! I hate to say it, but I'm looking forward to seeing Kim's expression when her Mom walks though the door!

I think that is will be beneficial to Kim to have her Mom in her face so to speak and I dont mean that in a bad way; I think that Kim has a way of detaching herself from life's situations, she has developed a powerful defensive technique, like peeling a 1000 layered onion.

I think this will be great for her and her mother!

I think you're right, KP. She may be a "short-termer" like Maureen, or just a few days' visitor.

I can't imagine they would spring a current guest's mother, especially one who caused her such pain, into the house without Kim's knowledge. Hailey and Lynelle came in together by mutual agreement. This would be much different.

Kim's Dad is Alive but Christie's Dad is dead, I am pretty sure of that. It will be very interesting to see what happens between mom and daughter:evil:

I think if I was Kim I would really be upset. She probably won't be able to work on getting where she needs to be about her mother with her mother there. Either that or there may be one Big Fight. Sounds like her mom is just going to make excuses for what she did, and we know what Kim thinks about some of those excuses after Christie called her mom.

I tend to agree with you, dpnana. Did Kim have previous knowledge of her mother actually being a housemate or did she think that Melinda was only coming for a visit? Heck, I should get my mom and me on the show! Talk about some fireworks! lol

I don't even think she knew her mom was coming for a visit or as house mate. I think they just had her show up. Did you see Kim's face when she saw her. And she said she had not seen her for over a year. And before that I think it was over 15 years. I don't know, maybe this will bring Kim out of her shell about her mom and she will really tell her what for. I have missed the past two days because I had to go somewhere and forgot to set the recorder so maybe she already did tell her off. If you saw the 14th and 15th let me know what happened between the two of them.
