Lori really grew on me in the first season. I love to listen to her unique perspectives and insights to things. And she is so funny too! I hadn't seen the first date with Matt before and she is saying in the "confessional" how boring and wierd she sounds !She's too cute ! Matt seemed very interesting,accepting and kind also. I think they are friends now but that's it. Location may have a factor.

It was also funny when her self defense coach say "stop over analyzing everything!"

She also stood up for Mo to Ny about the shower incident.

She looks great and I love her unique way of expressing herself! Although one of her exercises was to speak in short sentences!!! :x :unsure: kinda like asking an Italian not to use their hands !!! :laugh:

My hubby has been home a few days and watched SO with me today. I was giving him all of the details on the women. He said Lori shouldn't have changed a bit. He also said guys like shy girls, they are more of a challenge! Well, that's not what he got with me!:laugh:
