Previews for next week...

Did anyone else see the previews at the end of today's show? It seems Lisa is still the queen of fake crying. I did not catch all that was said, but I recognized that sound from clear in the kitchen.:blink:

Yep, It was Rhonda, Lisa and Lisa's parents sitting at a patio type table outside somewhere. Presumably in Florida.

It had Rhonda seemingly asking her parents for feedback about whether or not Lisa should graduate. I should rewatch it (I taped it today) but I think she got weepy before they were getting ready to reply... We see her mother shaking her head back and forth. But you know editing. It could have been something else altogether!

We shall soon see I guess!

I know.....I thought the same thing.....yup, editing! Trying to make it look like her parents are even questioning her growth.....of course they're NOT.....they help her stay at her stunted level!!!

Yup. Not 10 seconds of Lisa, and already with the fake crying. C'monnnnn, fake graduation! Anybody wanna make some side-bets on the number of fake smiles filmed at the fake graduation? Or should we just stick to the fake crying? Can't even make a good drinking game out of it.

Some the members here are sober, and the rest would be snockered before we got 10 minutes into the show. I've got ten bucks (paypal) says nobody on this board spots an actual tear from Lisa.

Meh. Never mind. That's a sucker bet.

Random question - is cynicism an emotion, or a thought process? :huh:

Neither... It's a bad habit! (IMHO) Sort of like sarcasm.

I think we all should chip in and send her a big ole bouquet of PLASTIC tacky flowers!

I can't wait to hear what Rhonda has to say about Lisa's accomplishments while standing at the podium.

Better hope I don't take up generalized nastiness, then. :laugh:

It had Rhonda seemingly asking her parents for feedback about whether or not Lisa should graduate.

I mean seriously, if you have to ask I think you know the answer. Sheesh
