3 hours in a jet would do it.

I saw a trailer showing Iyanla is back. With a foghorn, no less. Finally! Somebody bigger and louder and more in command of the situation. 'Bout time.

I can see that I am going to have to attach a "lisa monitor" to my TV this week. Any time it detects that whiny voice it turns the sound off and turns the screen black!

I resent the fact that they are spending even one more minute on this woman. When they showed her at the end of the show on Friday doing her usual no tear whining I could have screamed!

OH...Come on...you know she's the HG we love to hate.

She cracks me up! I think she's more of a comic relief from the intensity of Kelly and Kim.

I second that. These last 2 weeks were so boring for me.
Some action, FINALLY!:woohoo:
