
Christine and camera man

Posted by sullie103 - 2006/01/29 06:02

There is a rumor circulating that Jessica and Christine had planned to live together when Christine moved to LA. Then Christine told Jessica she would be living with camera man from the show. Jessica told Rhonda and Christine was only one not invited to run in marathon. Rumor only.

welcome sullie. personally i saw something i found very interesting at christinas graduation and for this reason ive decided to post here: for those of you who have taped the show watch--the scene just b4 christina gets up to make her speach--watch rondas face while shes looking at christina. now of course i am fully aware that sometimes the camera catches certain facial expressions or glances or odd looks that mean NOTHING. but. i saw rondas face, and i just wondered if i was the only one-- maybe it meant nothing, but ill tell ya her expression shocked the hell outta me and the look on rondas face made me jump. i dont normally make speculative comments unless i have a reason--but ive been wondering if what i saw was just a flukey expression or if that expression meant something: and of course well never know what ronda was thinking about christina, at that precise moment where rondas facial expressionis captured by the camera, but i would like to know if anyone else caught this--or if it was just me.

Yes, I saw this. My impression was that Rhonda was not a fan of Christine's. Somewhat was a look of disgust.

Well if it true, that is Christina's business, as she has graduated from the house, I do think it was childish like a tattletale with Jessica running to Rhonda.. Get a life, so does this mean she will be at all the graduations from season 3.??? (Jessica I mean) ok so it wasnt just me. i dont recall anyone else pointing this out, and usually there is a discusssion about the grad too, but i dont recall that either--though i did see a thread about her makeover and contributed to that. of course we shall never know what ronda was thinking at that moment, but yes--it looked like disgust, and that might be putting it mildly--jmo. but who knows if it was disgust for all of christinas noises (the ohhig and ahhing and "omg!!!"s--which was pretty irritating)-- OR: if there was something else going on there. to me the look ronda gave her was deliberate--ive considered that her expression COULD have been just an odd capturing on camera: but to me it looked like a very loong, lesiurely head-to-toe look of pure disgust and dislike: a look like, "you piece of trash slut". sorry everyone but thats what i saw. help me out, was i misreadig this???

yes, i thought christinas non-stop "OMG OMG OMG!!!"s through the whole cerimony were pretty irritating--but did have ahunch that ronda was not just responding to that; sure it was annoying but not THAT annoying. i also thought the expression on rondas face was a bit like: "god, we can put all the nice clothes on you and spend all this time helping you become a woman of honour and underneath it all your still just a trashy ho--who is doing our cameraman--thanks a lot." seriously. i am not getting any visceral pleasure from my interpretation of the look on rondas face--bc while christina was immature she did have some good points, such as she seemed to have a very sincere and loving relationship with iyanla--but, i honestly thought rondas expressions said: "you dirty little pig". it freaked me out but i thought well if anyone else had felt similarly wed be discussing it on the boards. i also noticed that "no one else" was very demonstrative--please correct me anyone if i am wrong--which made christinas somewhat noisy verbalizations stand out. i also saw it as a very unglamorous dinner, with just a picnic prepared by the hgs and steak iyanla said she would order--presumably for the BBQ?: meaning, the rest comes out of yur grocery budget an dyou get to prepare it yourselves. wow. compared to the other grads this seemed sort of quick and cheap. i didnt see as many guests either. the whole thing was: biff boom bang. one day iyanla says: youre having a dinner tonight bc your graduating tomorrow. personally, i found the whole thing very surreal. i thought it was just me. but i did not know what to make of it. especially that cheap street-performance entertainment. huh? it seemed pretty hoaky compared to the dinner out in a nice restaurant that they usually give graduating hgs.

haha cat! yes it would certainly seem so bc jess IS at every single grad now she lives right in town and seems to spend a LOT of time gossiping about the new hgs--i wonder if this detracts from the new hgs interms of fitting in? and yes there is so much we dont know too. its hard to make any kind of case based on a fleeting expression, but, i would not put it past jess to tattle to ronda. just my general impression... dunno really.

well she would have had to have been passing it through her upper lip--which she had curled into a perfect snarl--or perhaps she was passing it through her nose: as she was looking down it (apparently with some condescension) quite deliberately with what appeared to be a very superior posture. so still a very united effort (snarl/eyes/posture) for just the passing of gas. lol.

Christina is out of the house, she can chose to date whoever she wants.

Then again, it's just a rumor. Last rumor I read was about Xtina getting the boot instead of graduation.

I saw that look that Rhonda gave and thought it was quite odd! Didn't know what to think at the time--maybe jealous because her suit looked better than what Rhonda had on--a lavender blouse and dark pants--she is dressed up more than that at graduations.

Who will ever know--unless Rhonda speaks out.

So therefore, Christina has graduated and moving on with her life as it to be in LA or North Carolina. And whoever it be with---She's graduated---and that is what is important!

yes i also so the rhonda look. wondered what it was about too. i took it as kind of a smug , ha ha type. that was just my perception.

i would like to add , this is titled christine. we have a christine in the house that we are watching. and christina, graduated. i am wondering if the two arent being confused together. anything is possible with either of them. i just hope the best for them all, and give them credit for being aired under someone elses choice cuts. as in the editing.

yes u r right, i am sorry i also got confused. i guess its easier for some (as in myself) to get confused, when some are saying christine, when on the show i am used to christina. oh, well . i will stick to reading every one elses post. i never ventured any comments on any boards, except the thread i started. first time i did, and look i goofed. i do know this similar rumor was on another board months (not sur how long, dont keep on that site) ago. this rumor is a bit different, but boils down to the same

Just one correction (I think)...from what I read on another site I'm pretty sure it said Jessica blabbed to lyanla, and lyanla was so upset that Christina did not really "drop her hustle" (uh, duh, you didn't help out by saying her less than $200 earned was enough for the pictures...she hustled you right under your nose) that lyanla was the one who blacklisted Christina and made sure she didn't get invited back to the run. I already deleted the grad from my Tivo (didn't want to see those teeth any longer than necessary) so unfortunately I can't go back and get the joy out of the look on Rhonda's face. I'm sure Rhonda knew better than lyanla what was going on and that Christina did not earn the right to graduate.

I know that on two occasions on the Real World, which is another B-M production, that a casting director and a producer were both fired from the staff for having relationships with the housemates. I can only assume since it is the same production company that they have the same rules for all of their employees.

As for the look Rhonda gave Christina, I saw it too and wondered what it was about. It appeared to be a disdainful look. I don't know why she would look like that, but maybe she had the same thought some of us did about Christina's makeover and thought it so inappropriate for Christina that she couldn't hide it. Just a guess, though.

And for the rumor about Christina and the camera man, I thought Christina was working at a Hooters in NC. At least I thought I read that somewhere, so I don't know if one was before the other, or she is in two places at once. :silly:

I doubt the camera man rumors are true. If the run you mentioned is the one that was posted about on this site then she probable didn't go because it was too far away. Before she graduated Christina said she was going back home and her MySpace site said she lived in NC. If she was going to move in with him she would be in LA by now. If you use the habitat for humanity episode as a time frame then what we see each day happened 3 months before. Three months is more than enough time to gather her belongings and move. I also doubt she would have had Jessica on her MySpace freinds section if Jess outed a relationship as people are claiming. Christina seems like the type to hold a grudge.

I made a post regarding this a while ago. When I first heard of the Christina & cameraman rumor, I went to her Myspace page and noticed that she had a photo from TJ's grad and there was a cameraman in the photo and Christina had a caption about the "sexy camera man" or something to that effect. I was surprised at the caption and thought "hmmm maybe there is some truth to the rumor"? I then searched her friends and found a guy that looked like the one in the picture. When I looked at his Myspace, he had two photos of Christina that she had on her page. His introduction said that he is a cameraman has a young daughter and that his breakup with the mother was "a long story" or something like that. Shortly after I posted what I had found, he sent Christina a comment asking her to instant message him. Not long after that, her site was removed.

When Jill was on the live chat at the fishbowl.com (I think you can search the archives) I asked her if the rumor was true. I did get a few people saying that the question was inappropriate, but I did persist because Christina's goal was to become a woman of honor. After no response I said something like "Well, Jill I guess you aren't going to answer my question about Christina" She then asked what I knew about it, so I told her the rumor and she said that Christina would have to answer that question (or something like that). So make of it what you will, but this rumor goes back a while. I was surprised to see a new thread about it when I logged on.

The information about Jessica was not a part of the original rumor, as far as I know. I believe someone read a post made by a friend of the cameraman's wife and posted the rumor on this site.

LET ME SEE, WHERE TO BEGIN;)

CHRISTINA WAS ONE OF THE YOUNGEST, KINDEST, AND MORE THOUGHTFUL OF WOMEN ON STARTING OVER. I THINK SHE REACTED HER AGE AT GRADUATION AFTER ALL SHE DID RECIEVE SOME VERY NICE GIFTS TO IMPROVE HER LIFE. PERSONALLY I THINK A RELATIONSHIP WITH MEN IS PART OF WHO SHE IS A YOUNG ATTRACTIVE WOMEN. SEX, IS NOT BAD LADIES.....

RHONDA, IS AT A MID LIFE CHANGE, I FEEL SHE IS UNSURE ABOUT HER LOOKS "MATRONLY", I HAVE SEEN HER USE THIS LOOK OR ONE SIMILAR WITH OTHERS. SO.....LADIES GET A GRIP.

:P :P :P :P HOPING ALL YOU LADIES HAVE A SEXUAL LIFE AND ENJOY IT. THIS IS A PROBLEM THAT SEEMS TO COME UP OFTEN ON THE MESSAGE BOARD. WHY CAN'T WE ALL BE HAPPY FOR CHRISTINA, DOES STARTING OVER FOR HER MEANS SEX IS DIRTY, NEVER AGAIN!!!!!!!!!!

LADIES LETS BE R E A L !!!!!!!

LOVE FOR ALL, JAZZ:lol: :lol: :lol:

No one is saying that sex is bad or that Christina does not deserve to have a sex life. Everyone seems to be upset because it is implied that she broke up a marriage to get a relationship. That after graduating as a woman of honor, she shouldn't have done something like that.
Just remember, that this is a RUMOR, not a documented fact.

Re:Christine and camera man

yes, I agree with Parker. The other thing is that Christina wasn't showing much commitment to her living her life in an honorable way. It was more important that she get her priorities in order and work on her future with her son and THEN let relationships enter the picture... and when that happens concentrate on keeping them well grounded and based on realistic common goals.

Christina had alot of inconsistencies going on... It would have been easy for her to fall back into her old ways...and enjoy the attention she aroused in men...

It was just sad to see hear that she got so distracted even before she got out of the house...and all that she was aiming for goal wise...was for naught. I'm not without hope that it may only be a setback for her.... She did seem to have some things going for her. She didn't seem to be on drugs..and she seemed to be a quick study. But I think she wants things too easily...

If the rumor is true... then additional rumors may be as well. I saw rumors that the fling with the cameraman didn't last very long and that she had gone back to N.C. after a short stay in L.A. (and a falling out with the ex hooker that S.O. set her up with..) I did see her myspace site before she closed it. Alot of men were still putting very suggestive replys on it...and some posters on this or another site said that right before she shut the site down she had some suggestive pictures of herself on it.

She needs to work on developing appropriate relationships... that's the key thing... AFTER getting her life and priorities in order... # 1 should be her son!

Re:Christine and camera man

Posted by dgoddess - 2006/03/12 19:40

honor or no honor. sex or no sex. the houseguests and the production staff sign contracts not to fraternize with each other, let alone talk to each other. she broke the rules. she broke her contract. if she has been cut out by the life coaches and the other house guests she deserves it. she is lucky she isn't being sued by bumin murray for breach of contract.
:angry:

Concerning the breech of contract that ladies sign not to have conversation or interaction with the crew or production people, I am sure that the men and women that work there sign a contract NOT to socialize with the ladies. They are to act as if they are not being filmed all the time, which would be so hard to do, but the ladies say they get used to it. In my opinion, both the ladies and the cameramen or production workers, have breeched the contract, and who knows, maybe they have been fired!

If Christine and the cameraman wanted to have a relationship, they should have waited until the man was separated from his wife, and filing for divorce. That would have been what a "woman of honor" would have done.

What I find strange is that Christine has never been invited back to the house for any of the others graduations or I can't recall her name ever being mentioned again. There has to be a reason for that. Jessica and TJ have been asked back, why not Christine? hmmm:unsure:

Re:Christine and camera man

I don't think Christina was particularly close to any of the other hg's. The only one close in age to her was Jessica.

We must remember that we should assume that these are still all rumors...and treat them as such. I doubt the show is going to corroborate anything...

As Jill said according to her chat session the other week that those questions should be directed to Christina.. (She wasn't going to say anything..)

Maybe the whole Christina and cameraman issue really has nothing to do with we the viewers... We don't always know how the ladies ultimately choose to use the tools and resources they gain while in the house. Some choose to throw them away... or aren't ready for them.

Frankly Christina's story didn't have alot of impact on me... because I couldn't very well relate to her.

I do hope she learned something while at the SO house.

I'm thinking Jessica comes to graduations because she is in CA and because of her close friendships with the lady graduating. So, I don't think she is being asked as much as she is the one who asks to attend. TJ came from Colorado (?) probably because it was her girl Jill who was graduating. I think both these women pay their way to attend the graduations. Christina was really not close to any of the women, and she may not be financially able to make the trips to CA.

i dont think christina really learned anything in the starting over house..yes she is young, but that is no excuse..she chooses the easy way out, and she uses her cuteness to get it..i believe she will always need a man to pay her way..her and her mom seemed to be very weak women. she could win you over, but you knew you were being conned.
