Thanks SOFAN .. I guess that means I need a new crystal ball lmao!!! Kind of wierd she isn't in any previews until May 3rd.. she isn't really doing anything right now except with that mask.. and if Kelly doesn't watch it she may just bop her with it! lol I know they're just previews and they don't mention everything but surely they will have Jodi working on something other than her battle to go home!

And, Jodi is still in the building on May 12th, getting a makeover for her graduation. I wonder how far HER boobs will be falling out.
And, it looks like we're stuck with her for the duration. She's asked, the day before, to stay on and "help" Christie. Shades of Layne. About 50 pounds heavier!

Jodi ASKS to stay on?? I thought she was the one who wanted to go home every five minutes. I really am confused by her sometimes. :S

Wow, is this a teaser?

I thought Christie finally bought the "I matter" concept.

It seemed after the meeting with her mother she was able to accept/forgive and not be so judgemental. Is she getting ready to leave the nest and is panic setting in -- we'll see, stay tuned. LOL

No Jodi is asked to stay on I believe. Sort of like they did Layne last year.... near the end of the season. I think if you start clearing the house out too early... You lose something with the dynamics in the house and they can't fill the vacuum if Jodi were to leave. Christie and Jodi clearly have become good friends! So giving the household a sense of continuity will help all the women. We've seen everytime theres been a graduation and a new hg... a since of upheaval. Since Jodi rooms with Antonia... that could have disrupted Antonia as well.
