
TVGUIDE preview clips

Posted by KPW1956 - 2006/05/20 00:54

Found this thread this morning... About being able to tap into the tvguide website and see video clips of the upcoming shows. I couldn't figure out how to get them... But obviously some were...

Maybe some here will have some luck...

A couple people mention seeing a huge attendance of old SO cast members...

I really hate referring people to this site...(at the link)...but the info might be worth it!

(Read the whole thread... Some are mentioning details about Christy's graduation too!)

I was able to see the clips through the below link... I did have to plug in my cable provider... I think it was mostly a tvguide listing and some entries had clips. I watched the clips from the next 3 and sorrowfully the LAST 3 episodes.

I think this link is affiliated with the tvguide website.

Much to comment on and enjoyed watching them! I think I'll do it again to see who and or what I missed!

Antonia looks wonderful via her makeover... (I wonder if it stays true to form that Andi doesn't oversee the women of color's makeovers?) (Hopefully not...but if she did... she did a great job this time!)

We can see Christie's makeover... (not crazy about it..)

The last show... I caught a glimpse of Candy with lighter hair.. and several others... Mostly from this season.. but someone at the other site mentioned seeing some others..

I saw this preview as well. There were a lot of former HGs there- Alison, Lynnette, Kim, Lisa 2, Mo, Andy, Cassie2, Candy and others who I couldn't recognize. The upsetting thing is that the announcer mentions that it is the "series finale" eventhough the beginning of the preview says that it is the "season finale." I am beginning to believe that this is it for the show.

I can't wait to see the last SO show. Hopefully, the channel won't play with our hearts with their breaking news.:) Can't wait to see some of the old HGs again. :woohoo:

Unfortunately, the guy I spoke with at Bunim/Murray the other day said that unless they find a new studio (not sure that this is the correct word..it's late and I'm tired..lol) that SO will not be coming back next fall, due to NBC dropping it from it's production. All I told the guy was that B/M better find someone soon...otherwise they are going to have a lot of pissed off women in the US very soon! LOL

I wonder if one of the reasons Christie is so stressed out over the 5K is that she's been told it will be the 'series finale'? I mean, that would freak me out, I know! Completing an assignment is one thing...being responsible for the 'finale' is quite another!:blink:

Thinking out loud... I wonder if Oprah would be interested in picking up SO for her Oxygen Network. I e-mailed her website www.oprah.com, doubt if she'll respond... maybe we should flood her site with requests to bring it to her attention. I understand she had lyanla on her show... does anyone at SOT know Oprah... or anyone at FOX, ABC or CBS? You never know unless you ask. Oh well... I really hate to see this show come to an end.

Is Oprah affiliated with the Oxygen Network?

I think Lifetime would be a good prospect too. But if the producers don't wanna continue... can't very well make them.

Don't go asking WE to pick up this show. They stopped showing "McLeod's Daughters," without a thankyou for the women who were watching on Saturday nights.

"McLeod's Daughters" was a show about women in the Australian outback who run a sheep farm. But it was more than that, of course. I got hooked after catching a Sunday afternoon marathon when I was home sick, and I was a goner thereafter.

It was like watching "Sisters" on Saturday nights all over again. Finally, something for women to watch on Saturday nights! We're not in bars, and we're not throwing grand dinner parties.

We're home watching TV.

Why don't TV execs listen to us? I want to continue to get my daily group therapy session from "Starting Over."

You know that is a very good point. It is alot of pressure and hopefully she will ask for additional help if she doesn't think she is getting it.
