
Does Iyanla Have Another Website?

Hi, All..

Does anyone know if Iyanla has another website other than Innervisions?

I was interested in reading if she had ever discussed why she wouldn't be coming back to the show (well, if the show is cancelled, its a moot point..lol :whistle:)

:cheer: Thanks in advance to anyone who posts a link.

I don't know that she has any other websites but she did participate in a chat on the WCW site. There is a transcript there too I believe. I read it, and think that she mentioned that she is interested in teaching as opposed to coaching now.

Don't know if you already are a member there. I think they closed the open registration (or had for a time) and you might need to email them / contact them to inquire about joining. I think they were cleaning house too. So those who were inactive for a length of time might be getting deactivated. (so fair warning for lurkers there!) I got a post in a couple weeks ago...so I think I'm good!

Another interesting read there is the transcript with Jodi. Jill and Kelly both pop in there too and are part of the 'chat'.
