Well that's gotta be pretty sh$%%y. Can you believe we SO fans have been relegated to 2.00 am?

They are playing Amsih in the City instead.

I wrote to Arena today and they said that SO has had a good run and they are showing something else now:evil:

Perhaps if we all write to them they will put it back.

Lets try

I didn't "discover" Starting Over until it was on at 2am and that was only because of insomnia. Now I am hooked and even though my sleep patterns have switched back I have my husband set up the timer so that it tapes while we're sleeping and I can watch it later!
