
Just found this site and I am soooooo excited!!!

Hello all,

I am new to this site and can't begin to tell you how excited I am to have finally found a place I can talk and chat and find out things about SO and people will understand me (hehehe). My friends have never head about SO (which I taped every single day since it came on at 5:30am). Just like Belle, I too find the show to be so helpful in my own personal life. Nice to meet you Belle. I look forward to meeting ppl here and chit-chatting about something we all have in common.

Have you been watching the show from season 1? I just started watching SO shortly before Shenay graduated in season 2. That show was so addicting to me. I hope somehow they bring it back next year...the coaches are wonderful and you learn alot just watching it.
