Do you know if this guy is from the same family...Borghese....a mother and son sell a line of lotions and other bath products on the Home Shopping Network? Pretty sure he's a prince too...the mom is Amanda...she is American...and the son is nicknamed "Skip"...but real name Schiapianno (I seriously doubt that's spelled correctly!)
Can't remember the brand name at the moment!! But I do know that they have high end shops in Italy.

The name of the brand is "Princess Marcella Borghese", I believe that Lorenzo is her grandson.

May be related then, but that's not the brand name of the line on HSN....cannot drag it out of the recesses of my brain...I'd know it if I heard it though!!! Better yet, think I'll go look it up or it will drive me crazy! You know how that goes.....:laugh:

Well, the line has gone through a lot of changes since the bankrupsy of Revlon. I worked as an Account Executive for the Borghese line for several years. It truly breaks my heart to see what has come of it.....in Cosco!! Yikes. All I can say is poor management at the top!

I had the opportunity to meet the Princess a few times, at the time that I met her she was in her late 80's and then 90's. Her son, I believe her eldest son, Franceco, was about 15 years my senior. come to think of it, Lorenzo could very well be, her Great Grandson! The Borghese family still remains Italian "Royalty", yet, they hold no office, nor government privalege any longer.

Yes, that's fairly common in old European royal families. Still earns them social privileges though...and the respect of "history." I knew a Polish count once who "lived off the generosity of friends." In other words, he was a great dinner guest, with lots of stories! (Not at my house...usually ran into him at an art supply store!)

You never know! He was a sweet old guy really, so kind and dignified. The art store owner was an artist too, and painted the prince's portrait...had it in the window...I was fascinated by it as a teenager, bow tie, wild hair! His name was Vivien!! He just had a great face, twinkly eyes, but a sadness there too. He may be responsible for my checking eyes in photographs...to see if the smile is in them too. The window to the soul, and all that!!:)

What ever happened to having "regular people" on the Bachelor/Bachelorette?? Just my opinion.
