
Monique replacing Star Jones?

Posted by Tara - 2006/07/27 19:42

Has anybody else heard about Monique replacing Star Jones on the View? I was just watching one of those Entertainment shows and it was about Monique having an issue on an airplane. I was half listening but she mentioned something about being interviewed to be on the view. She also said she is going to be on again tomorrow.

Debby had also mentioned something.

According to the View's website.. MoNique was a guest on Monday but will be the celebrity guest host tomorrow. I didn't see Monday's show...but Debby says she was really rude and obnoxious to Joy.

I think according to the website, they go on hiatus after this week or next. Then they won't be taping with live audiences... until September. I imagine they'll make a decision about a new cohost fairly soon.

I doubt that they'd pair Rosie and Monique on the same panel. I am already wondering if Rosie and Joy might be a problem... Having 3 comedienne cohosts would be WAY too much!

Debby and I speculate that Elisabeth might be planning an exit. Trying to conceive, would give her an out virtually anytime she wants.. Either leaving to concentrate on 'the process' or because she winds up pregnant in the next month or 2.

I think the show format has had the rug pulled out from under it with the departure of Meredith and then Star. I wouldn't blame Elisabeth if she is trying to depart with dignity and her career intact.

Tara, Monique was kicked off the plane that was flying her to NY to film a guest spot on The View. She says an argument about a hairdryer in the overhead storage caused the problem. She was on a few shows venting her outrage of how poorly she was treated on the plane. The airlines says she was a safety threat.

When she described the incident, she herself admitted that she kept telling the airline attendant that she would not be addressed in the manner she considered rude. I don't know. I don't know what to think. I think that if an airline attendant asked me something or told me to do something regarding my luggage, I would comply and complain later to the captain when I was exiting the plane or later inside the terminal, if I thought they were rude. I don't think I would get into a war of words as other passengers are boarding and stand my ground to the point that I was kicked off my flight. Especially when I have work lined up in another city.

She was so rude to Joy on the show that I lost all respect for her. She wasn't even funny, IMO.

She says she has hired a lawyer regarding the airplane incident. I think she's a Star Diva want-a-be. I hope she's not back on the show today. She owes Joy an apology in my opinion. I used to really like the lady. I don't want to see her anymore.

I won't see the show until I get home this evening. I tape everyday and watch it at night. I dread seeing her on the show. I hope she got an attitude adjustment regarding Joy. She was fine with Barbara and Elisabeth. Of course, Grizz saw it and thought that Joy was rude to Monique. I had a different take on it. We'll shall see.

I happened to see a news piece on the incident. It was one of those big hairdryers... with a hood. I can't imagine that she had only that carryon... apparently she had 3 assistants.

She is such a diva...! I'm sure she was giving them a hard time too. The news piece I saw said that she was trying to drum up a boycott of United Airlines.

If it's that huge of a hairdryer, she should have checked it in with her luggage!

I caught a glimpse of yesterdays show before I had to leave... They were in the midst of interviewing Colin Farrel I think. Elisabeth was doing the bulk of the interview and Joy looked like she was uncomfortable looking at Colin... since MoNique was on the other side of her.

Was Monique's hair the same as it was on Monday? I wonder if they taped both shows the same day?

Tonight on "Entertainment Tonight", it was mentioned that Gayle King (Oprah's best friend) is A Major contender for the new co-hosting position on "The View". I think that Gayle would be a good choice, she is smart and well rounded with a great sense of humor.

I can't imagine that after all the problems with Starr and her Diva ways....another Diva, such a Monique, would be a possible choice.

Wow I never even thought of Gayle King. I think she would be a great fit for the View.

Gayle King would be great...or Iyanla from SO, but Mo'Nique??? I will definitely stop watching if she is on there permanently!

Mo'nique ruined any opportunity she may have had to host The View. SHE doesn't know when to shut up and let someone else speak. The other women on the show often have that problem as well, but Mo'nique is far worse. She is just too full of herself.

Gayle King is a great choice, but, I still think that the show wants a young girl. Maybe they can hire Gayle and then get the young girl if Joy or Elisabeth leave... just guessing. I think that if Gayle really wants the job, Oprah would be willing to pull any strings she might have to make it happen. Oprah is too powerful to be denied. She'll get Gayle that job if Gayle wants it.

I have to disagree and agree with you. I like Monique but she not for the View. I thought she did well on the show and I never thought she was being mean. Barbara called her kids creatures now whats up with that. Monique is a diva but in a good way and she don't needs to be on that show. I thought Joy and Barbara was being rude to her and she was just sticking up for herself. I don't like the View so I don't give a damn who works there. I was just flipping through the channel and saw Monique and I watch it.

I heard there was a stink about Barbara calling Mo'Nique's children creatures, but, I saw the show too and don't recall her saying that. Maybe I missed it.

Other members have posted here that they thought Joy was the aggressor and not Mo'Nique. I just didn't see it that way.

There was a major scene yesterday on The View. I'm going to post it on The View thread as opposed to this one.

YOu should give The View another chance. It was HOT yesterday! Almost a cat fight!!

OK, Debby... Hopefully you post what happened on 'the view' thread... You've piqued my interest! I'd hate for the show to wind up thriving on drama and catfights. It really should be rising above that.

One would think KPW, one would think. I sent Barbara an e-mail today. I did mention the incident. I told her that I thought Elisabeth needs some help.

Good idea, Debby! Perhaps Elisabeth could have a few sessions with Dr. Stan!

You may be able to catch it on a rerun. The link I posted just gives a small portion of what happened. You had to see the entire thing.

To tell you the truth, while it was exciting, it was uncomfortable too.
