
reality tv site post

A member at the site there who is a regular.. apparently emailed TJ... she has posted TJ's email to her.. (of course we can't verify it).. A couple things caused me to hold it suspect...but for the most part it sounds much like her and give no reason to question the info on it.

Hopefully it is legit..and indeed TJ is doing well. The post from the member is only about a week old. I assume the email might have been fairly recent too.

I wish she had mentioned how Kim was doing since she did say Kim had come to Denver to visit.. (I'd assume her mom).. Also Jennifer from SO2 and Lisa2 both are from Denver. Now that I think about it... so was Kim from SO2 from that area! Now I'm not sure which Kim...but thought she implied SO3 Kim!

Oh well, just another tidbit to throw out there. I rarely go to the reality tv site... I would have been surprised if TJ had just replied as a member there... but I could see it if someone contacted her and then emailed them back. This site is notoriously rough on the hg's... and some posters don't hold anything back there. I'm very glad we have SOT!

Excuse me you are wrong!

I am the Dawn that TJ spoke about in the reality tv world posting. I didn't post the email contents...TJ herself did. Please verify your information before you post false information.

Thank you.

Dawn

Sure sounds like TJ to me, but I know what you mean about not being able to state positively. If we are taking votes...I say it more than likely is...the verbosity convinced me,LOL! And...I learned a little more about her, and the more info the better, re understanding!

Dawn,

My apologies, It wasn't meant to be disrespectful of anyone..and from the sounds of the email, especially the beginning was confusing. It sounded as if TJ had emailed someone and then asked the person not to divulge information... (maybe she was referring to address or something.)

Anyways, there were aspects of it having been relayed as an email and confusing references as to how it became posted.

I'll let the SOT members here determine what they want.. I merely let them know it exists. Which was a nice thing and news about TJ, something we hadn't had!

Thanks for whatever part you played in it!

Dawn,

Now that I read it again, it makes better sense.. I was the one confused about the beginning and then the middle reference about not sharing the info..

It's all good... Nothing bad to say about TJ...

Apologies again! Would be interested in finding her other 2 posts..It looks like she had 3 posts at the site.

Thank you for your two posts. I didn't want people thinking that I had posted the email. She did ask me to keep it private but then decided to reach out to the SO community at large and as the email shared info about her, she decided to post it. I don't mind that she posted it, they are he words afterall. But I just didn't want people thinking that I did it.

Thank you again.
