Kim's site

Posted by KPW1956 - 2006/08/08 09:24

---

Nadia posted a couple updates she gleaned there. I noticed Kim is seeking to adopt a persian kitten and filming it for an upcoming episode of Animal Planet. Looks like that will be taped in a few days.

I guess we all will get a chance to see Kimmie again! Oh boy!
(The fake it till you make it, Queen!)

Here's her site (what's currently left of it) if anyone wants to browse.. Looks like she is still seeking to be a coach..and now revamping her site to accomodate her new 'career'.

I just checked this one out, the misspellings and bad grammar stopped me on the first page!

What in the world is a "Boutique Kitten" . . . ?

Thanks for that site KPW. I really liked it. Did you check out that photo of Towanda, husband and STEPMOTHER? What a shocker! I didn't think she could stand to be in the same room with that woman.

Also, did you check out the photos taken in the house, especially graduations? Somehow they look much different than on the screen don't you think...especially Iyanla and Rhonda. That Dr. Stan, though, he is a fine looking man!

Nice pict of her husband and her in the niece's graduation photo's.

Most of the pict's are pretty bad...but this one is decent...albeit large! :blink:

Here is a link to her The world according to Kim page...

Must be some SO talk there... (Hopefully she lost the 'fake it till you make it' mentality.)

Looks like she sees herself as a fashion coach... rather than a life coach! I find that a bit ironic!

All I can say after reading the first page of this site is, "Sophomoric" ! I wouldn't take Kim's advice on fashion if she paid me! EEE Gads!

The whole thought of hiring Kim as a Coach of any sort, is ridiculous.

It has been obvious from the beginning of the Kim saga that Kim wants "Fame", Kim wants her surgicly altered face on TV, period!

Personally, I have absolutely no interest in her, what so ever.

I always liked Kim...thought she had a good heart. She was always driven by fear, hence the facade. She was wonderfully supportive to her housemates, in my opinion, and they seemed to hold great affection for her. Her two daughters were a real credit to her, too, and the love between them was wonderful to see.

The "fake it until you make it" was said in jest...pretend that you're OK ...until you really get there!!

I think it must be hard to settle back into everyday life, after the experience in the SOH...quite a few former HGs have dabbled in one venture or another...trying out their new "tool boxes." I love that they try new things...if they don't pan out, so what? It's the trying that's important, IMO.:)

I don't wish her ill will or anything... But she irked me while in the SO2 house... She just came across as so materialistic... Then when the infamous 'Fake it till you make it' comment came out of her mouth... I never thought of her as even remotely serious about her stay at the SO house.

I thought her abrupt attempt at departing so she could take a preplanned cruise with her husband was ridiculous! It came out of left field totally!

Ohhhh! Re the cruise? I was talking to the TV that day! "Kim! No!...not after you've come this far!!!!" Panic set in I think...the fear of rejection was THAT strong! I was so glad that she stayed the course! The materialism was her "armor", I think. She, like so many others, entered the house having no idea how hard the journey would be...or how worthwhile!:)

Oh I kind of think she caught the show off guard and not wanting obviously her to walk out... I think they wrapped up her 'story' and let her catch up to her hubby. I don't think she missed much... if any of the cruise. I think they might not otherwise have graduated the 2 women together.. (Both Kim and Jennifer.). Kim was ready to leave as soon as she came back from that visit with her sister..

Her major goal may have been to heal her relationship with her sister, so she probably didn't want anything else tweaked...

I remember both she and Jennifer got luggage... as part of their graduation gifts. If I recall correctly, it was ugly! I think it was a bright color! I should say, at least I thought it was pretty ugly...

I can't even remember what color it was... Just that it was bright! Was it lavender or pink????

Well, remembered to tape today...and it was the show about the cruise!!! Could relax this time...knowing that Kim makes the right choice!! Hope that isn't a spoiler for anybody who did not see the original airing. So far, TV ONE is NOT jumping ahead with Season2, thank goodness! I can't remember if SOH disappeared with the new fall season last year...hoping not, or I may never get to see the other ladies!!

Ceilidh,

I was thinking that the cruise info came up when she got back from visiting her sister...

Was it before? Do you think she was hesitant about meeting her sister and trying to wiggle out of it?

I wish I could see the episodes... to jar my memory and maybe even get a new perspective...

Yes, the cruise info came just before, and, although it had been planned well in advance...I think she was getting cold feet about the meeting with her sister!! I also got the impression that she had expected to be "done" in the house before the date of the cruise. It seemed that she had promised her husband that her going to the house would not interfere in their marriage.

Anyway, she made the choice to stay, and is in Denver "now"...but Iyanla was still expressing concerns, that, after the meeting, Kim might still leave the house early.

Jennifer had the meeting with her mom today, which got to me ..again!!That went really well....LOVE to see families "mending!" :)

Do you remember the "awfulizing" session with Kim, Jennifer and Iyanla just before they left for Denver...all the things that could go wrong? Hilarious!!

Wasn't in the garden, but Towanda was there laughing and shaking her head in disbelief at the scenarios they were coming up with...reasons that they could not go to Denver, or what would or wouldn't happen if they got there!! Car wrecks, plane crashes, etc!

Don't you love the term "awfulizing?" I told my daughter about it, and now she warns me that she's aware she's doing it but just needs to vent...always ends in laughter!! It reminds me of something I heard or read...source forgotten in the mists of time...

about, when you are imagining the worst, ask yourself..."and then what would happen?" It always ended with you realizing that you were indeed, "awfulizing!" About not letting your fears get the best of you, and making you see that you were ...creating...fear, by overthinking.:P

Just to let you know...watched the dual graduation of Jennifer and Kim....JENNIFER got the PINK luggage!!! Bright! Kim's looked black, or navy.. They gave her a plane ticket to catch up with Dave in Barcelona. Jennifer got a vacation package for two, so that she and her sister could spend some time together...at some sort of "nature" resort...hiking trails, etc., and spa treatments. Really enjoyed this graduation...Kim was one of Iyanla's "challenges," but once they made the breakthrough, it was full steam ahead!! I think Iyanla enjoys the HGs who really make her work!! JMO.:)

Not surprised... I did see she had a myspace acct now.

I had seen her website not too long ago... and noticed it hadn't had any updates in a couple months. Last update it had was about something that was being filmed about a kitten/cat they were getting for animal planet.

I know Denises site is gone too.. Probably a couple of the others..

I wonder what happened with Kim's coaching?

---

I'd have to dig a tiny bit to find the myspace acct.

Anyone really want it?

Oh, maybe sherriamour had it on her fans page.. Also Bethany from SO2 had a page as well as Vanessa.

I'll look for it.. bring a link back for Sherri's site.

Kims site <http://www.kimbookout.com/> is back up!

she also mentioned that Jennifer will be getting married on November 18th! and Towanda is expecting her child this month.

I also wanted to mention that her chatroom is all changed now. There isn't anyone in there but it's all different.

I just tried... and it didn't work. Maybe she's working on it.

I think the info about Towanda and Jennifer was up there before.

I was wondering when info about the Animal Planet piece would be mentioned. Maybe it didn't make the cut... Or it's shelved for the time being. Something about adopting a cat.. or getting a specific breed.. Not quite sure..

I'll try again tomorrow.. Thanks Nadia for sleuthing!

The 18th is this month!

Good Luck Jennifer!

I wouldn't be surprised if Sommer was going.. SOMmer is good about posting picts.. So we ought to keep an eye out for Sommer's site for awhile!

Turtle, those picts were on her webpage last year. Probably from the end of the school year 2005. I distinctly remember them and quite a few others. I remember noticing her home decor..and the fact that her husband's shirt and her top didn't quite go very well together although similar. If they are designated new.. then they very well were very similar and they wore the same clothes.

I dont' know if that's a picture of T's first baby or second baby!

The picture on her home page does look like she has lost weight in her face though.. She definitely has a different hair style.
