What's your Funny, Not so Funny, Favorite Commercials?

I like the one where Johnson's boss has fired him months ago and he just keeps on eating his cereal.

:lol:

I love those Sonic guys...they crack me up everytime.

I also love the cow commercial where the girl cow is making the boy cow say what she wants before she'll give him back the ball...that's so cute.

And the Geico commercials...the pie and chips one is cute.

Have you seen the one where the two guys are working out at the gym and one is telling the other one about the cool phone features he has on the phone and says some doorknob left it behind. The other guy pushes the stop button on his treadmill and he crashes into it and says he thought he lost his phone. That is funny!

Man I like way too many commercials! :S

I like the Geico commercial with Little Richard I LOL everytime he sings: WITH GRA-A-V--V-Y and Mashed Potatoes.

My all time favorite commercial was for ETRADE a few years ago during the super bowl. There was a chimpanzee, a mentally challenged guy and an old guy sitting in a uhaul truck. The chimp was conducting the music and the other two guys were spastically clapping.

The tag line was: we didn't spend millions on our commercial so we don't have to charge you high fees...

I got to record it on one of the funnies super bowl commercials specials and every time I see it I laugh so hard I could cry!

I think during the Celebrity Fit Club I saw some commercials for beef jerky that were funny... They looked like the super bowl variety meant to be off beat type funny... They showed a bunch of guys playing a trick on the sasquatch character. They are out in the wild and happen on the sleeping monster and put shaving cream in his hand and inevitably he smacks himself in the face with it..and the guys start laughing and running hard... (I guess it's a guy thing or something!)... anyways, Sasq...eventually catches up with them as they get back to the road...and he smacks the perp and the perp goes flying.. then the commercial ends of course.

I think they had a series along the lines of 'fun with sasquatch' or something like that.

Not sure what it had to do with Beef Jerkey... Maybe it's a 'wilderness' theme or a 'guy' theme.. It's one of those skit type commercials with little said.. but all action!

I saw 1 or 2 others..but didn't catch the prank... Of course the shaving cream gag is a classic.. That's probably the only reason it caught my attention.

I could be wrong about what show I saw several of the commercials on last night. I didn't watch a whole lot... and maybe it was on during the premiere TNT movie.

I happened to find this link... I think the beef jerky company is called Jack's Links..

This net link...is interactive and mostly silly. If you get in the game..and click on various things...you can look at a book, or look at the commercials (click on the video camera or something hanging from the tree) It will give you 4 different commercials. The quality isn't great.. and the shaving cream one is the best of the lot.. visually. (The other pranks are the water bowl, salt shaker and binoculars...) I guess he pees himself, dumps a saltshaker of salt on his food, and looks through binoculars and gets dark rings around his eyes..(although you can't see them very well..) The guys each time seem like they get to laughing because of the prank and the prank seems to anger Sasquatch.. and he goes after them or has some sort of anger display each time.

Check it out.. I think it has a game aspect to this link tooo... but I didn't have the patience.

I am sure this is going to be a marketing genius for this company. I happened on alot of hits with people talking about these funny commercials. It looked like it could have been low budget with great audience appeal..and I am sure name recognition for the product!

How about the Windex commerical??!!

The 2 birds are sitting in the tree and one goes around to the front of the house and rings the bell. The man (who is sitting outside reading the paper) gets up goes into the house, checks the front door and no-one is there---in the meantime one bird flys down and closes the sliding glass doors. The windows are so clean the man walks into the door and the birds crack up!!

This commerical must have been made for my ex-mother-in-law! We went to this place and the doors and windows were so clean that she did the same thing!

Sorry have to laugh!:laugh:

And for all the NASSCAR fans--How about those!?? You have to understand these guys to really get the jokes behind them. They only show them during the races.

Nadia, I wondered that too. Made me nervous clicking on any of it...thinking it was a bug.. I think she was overseas and it could have something to do with an international server.

Not really sure..but that was just a possibility. I did see a later post she made without all the 'extras'. I'd never seen it before... It looked like it was coming up automatically.

No, no... Me NOT brave.. I'm chicken to click on strange things! I have nightmares of the computer going 'POOF'!

I didn't click on it... as I said I was only speculating or that it was a possibility! Of course if you want to try it... Let us know what happens..

I know the poster mentioned she lived in another country...(in one of her posts)

LOL ^^

ok, here's one commercial that I can not stand!
Head On TV Commercial, a headache relief roll on product you rub on your forehead! anyone see this one.

Talk about giving me a rash everytime I see this I turn the channel everytime!

:) My favorite commercial is the one for Volvo where the guy is picking up his (presumably) daughter and she is yapping away...

I just think it's adorable!

Tide To Go - Kelly Ripa -

This is a funny commercial I think... Hubby and Wife are having a dinner at a restaurant. You hear relaxing music playing, while Kelly Ripa is singing "NAH-NAH-NAH-NAH, NAH-NAH-NAH-NAH, HEY HEY, GOODBYE!" LOL

She had just removed a stain from her husbands shirt with Tide to Go Pen.

He asks her, "Do you have to sing that song every time you do that?" She gives him a look and says, "yes!"

:lol:

hi everyone

i havent been on the site in a long time :S but when i came back in i saw the messages from when i posted before....about all the codes and junk in my messages... i have no idea what they are....the reason the codes were gone in some messages..is because i had to backspace it all..then type my message for it not to appear....yes i live in middle east and canada...yes both....and when i post from canada...no code junk..so it is from ISP when i log in from overseas...please know i would never post a link for anything bad...i was horrified when i read that...please know its just code junk from ISP :blink:

im glad to be back on the site and i have been LOVING nadia's crazy email entries that i have read from being forwarded to my emal...:lol:

i apologize for any frustration i may have caused...i didnt realize it kept posting code until i realized i could backspace it all way!...by then i think i frusterated many of you

:blush:
sorry again

Welcome back Lisa... but don't worry... It was just an oddity... it didn't really bother me. Although I did wonder what it was and if it just had to do with an international isp.. or something.
