The style is different but I don't mind!

So who do you think killed the Dr?

I am still out on that one....haven't made up my mind! I guess whoever doesn't renew the contrats will be the killer!

Do you think the little girl really belongs to Tad and whats her face? Will Babe have a fling?

So many questions!! I guess that is why we keep tuning in!

I think Dell and Di killed Dr. Madden. That's just my belief. I do believe that Babe will sleep with Josh. I do think that little girl is Tad & Dixie

A friend of mine named her daughter Erica after Erica!!

My grandmothers name was Nina---but the "i" was pronounced with a long "i".

I don't watch Soaps anymore, I used to years ago, but I happened to see in Soap Opra Digest that Donny Osmond is coming to AMC. There is some connection between him and Erica Cain. It said to look for him in November. Does anyone know anything of a new character coming aboard? I couldn't tell if this is a regular role or a cameo appearance.

FYI, Donny is starring on Broadway in Beauty and the Beast, so he's in New York and I guess had his days free. I really want to catch him on the show. I have been a huge fan since childhood.

Me too! It was puppy love though! ;)

KPW, this is a misconception about Donny Osmond. It may have been Puppy Love when we were kids, but, it has lasted a lifetime for me. Anywhere he goes, there are droves of women....crying, screaming, grabbing at him. It's like they are still kids and yet now they are in their 40's! LOL. Many have their kids with them.

I think it's great to have fans that stick with you that long. He and his family had a great impact on me as a child and teen and I still admire them. Some of the brothers perform in Branson, Missouri at a musical theatre. I recently saw them on tv. Alan of course has MS and can't perform anymore. Merrill used to perform but something has happened to him. They always make me feel good!

He was on the show today playing himself and is supposed to me a guest on Erica's Talk Show.

Debbie... I think the longevity to Donny's attractiveness...is that he has an inner quality to him.. and he hasn't seemed to lose his sensibilities even though he has been hugely successful! He seems like a humble and likable fellow...that isn't full of himself as some of the other big stars seem to get to be..

I do like Donny... but just not to the degree I did as a preteen and teen ager.. So I meant for me it "was puppy love".. (I was making a pun regarding his famous song about "Puppy love"!!) Since I am a couple years older than Donny...

I remember having crushes on several teen stars... Me and a girlfriend couldn't wait to rush to the store to get the newest 16 magazine each month! I had crushes on Davy Jones, Sajid Khan, (he starred in a short lived series with Jay North called Maya), I also remember having a crush on Barry Cowsill, David Cassidy..and probably a few I don't remember.. Donny was certainly among the heartthrobs too! Only Donny has managed to achieve a good bit of diversity with his career... All the while seemingly with feet firmly planted. I heard him say not too long ago when he was on The View or another show..that he is a grandfather now.

Amazing... Makes me feel like I'm getting old!

Sorry for being OT... I think he seems like he has a lot of fun whether it's hosting a game show or doing a Broadway show.. He always has a smile on his face...and it seems genuine!

That is what is so refreshing and endearing about him.

Maybe I'll have to tune into the show after many many years of not watching it. I got hooked on it in the early 80's for a couple of years.. Just to pique my curiosity!

Wow, KPW. We would have made fast friends back in the day. I can't believe you remember Maya! I loved that show, though I didn't have a crush on the actor. I loved the elephant.

I did love the others you mentioned and also, Tony Defranco of the The Defranco's. (A Heartbeat is a Love Beat). LOL. But after Bobby and David, Donny hit the scene and he was my very favorite from then on. However, in 1994 I became acquainted with the music of Led Zeppelin and became a huge fan of Robert Plant!!! I know it seems crazy but I do still adore both performers although they are so far apart musically.

I did see Donny on AMC on Friday. I taped it by mistake thank goodness. OMG. I think they were implying that he was interested in Erica. He kept asking questions about her marital status. I think he was very attracted to her. I think she is nearly old enough to be his mother but who cares?

I think it would be a great storyline for him to develop a crush on her, although, I don't think they will since he is playing himself and he would not want to bring disgrace to his wife. He seems to be very devoted to his wife and family. But if he were to play say, an evil twin, I would love to see some steamy action on AMC with Donny and Erica. He's never done that kind of role before. I wish he would stretch a little. Of course he is still hot looking to me. I'm taping again today!

2 other heartthrobs that come to mind... from the old days..

When you mentioned Bobby, wasn't sure who you were referring to..but prompted me to think of Bobby Sherman.. (Here come the Brides).. I also thought of David Selby from Dark Shadows! teenage crushes can be so fickle! and fun too!

As for older dudes when I was a teen.. I always loved James Darren (Moondoggie, from the gadget movies), Frankie Avalon from the Beach movies (w/Annette Funicello)..oh of course... Michael Landon as little Joe on Bonanza was a cutie pie! He never did lose his handsome looks!

Maybe this would be a fun separate thread! I know those a bit younger than us grew up with crushes!

I know there was a tour of these guys going around a year or 2 ago... Bobby Sherman, Davy Jones and a few others from yesteryear.. I'll have to see if they are still touring. Probably not..

Thanks for the trip down memory lane...

Oh, and as far as AMC... How many times has Erica been married? I would think that would make most men leery of her if that were a similar situation in real life.. But then again it's a soap opera!

Are there any AMC trivia buffs who know? I think it is more than 8... but wouldn't swear to it..
