
Where did it go?

Posted by Nadia - 2006/09/12 09:24

This is strange..... I know that I'm not dreaming and I've given my head a shake this morning but I do remember that I posted a comment in season 1 re: PJ does anyone remember ? and the last poster would of been Willie Ball or some one like that... but I don't see it????

Is it me or is it somewhere else.. or did something happen? I'm totally confused here LOL

:S :S :S

Season 1 2006/06/24 07:55

I know for sure we have posted in september here ?? anyone else see this?

Or is my computer playing tricks on me?

Thanks for letting us know about this. There was a bit of a security breach here. One of our old staff members was never removed as a moderator from that forum. It seems she has been here over the past couple of days deleting threads from that forum.

I would hope that they only deleted the WB (willie balls)threads..

I think his last post regarding Jen and Lou was bogus. I noticed you locked the thread. Based on some of the garbage that he posted in the past, I think it would be good to delete all of his posts.

Locking the thread after that comment..lends credence to it... and it's something I wouldn't bet any money on. I always had the impression that WB was a troll.

If the breach was such that some threads were deleted that shouldn't have been... can you restore them?
