I am a huge fan of starting over..heck I watched it with pen and paer in hand takin notes!! My personal opinion on them taking it off the air is this... Its a mending show..it isnt full of blood and guts/sex/drugs ect ect, you know the stuff that tears this world apart...But it makes life better for many, its loving, its a teacher for the broken ones, its positive! What has this world come to!!!.....Seems to me like the people responsible for yanking it off the air should watch it and learn themselves!!!....

On to introducing myself..LOL..Im a 41 yr old mother of 6 girls...Ive had a hard life...13 yrs ago I put myself into counciling and from there my life bloomed with sweet serenity!! Im currently Attending fearbuster groups and am in the process of learning to be a Life Coach myself. If I can help even just one person change their life to the better I will have done alot! Ive been married happily married for 14 yrs now. All our children are living lives of their own but 1...Im sharing in raising a 9 year old boy and a 6 year old little girl...they are beautiful children and love them no less then my own. I love crafts!!! I make jewelry,create with polymer clay, sew ect ect...I love fishing,camping,nature period!!.....

Well will add more later, looking forward to getting to know you all .

Fearlessly yours,
Rain
