
thelchain is UP!

Posted by Halfdollar - 2004/12/28 20:57

Today, Tues., Dec. 28 Lynnell & Hailey's site is not up for some reason!

If anyone happens to go there in the next few days and find that IT IS working, Please Post that here!

I, along with many others, enjoy that site ALOT. I appreciate her keeping up with everyone & posting the pictures she does. That is also her means of earning a living.

Hopefully it is only a glitch somewhere along the line. Do you know anything else about it???

Unable to Fetch Domain is the error message I received. I do know that quite a bit lately I have had to reload the site because the pop up ad sill clear out the rest of the picture. Do you think she wants donations to keep the site open?

Yes dbmcmommy I have had th same problem with the pop ups on the lchain. Hopefully they are only having technical difficulties and not that it is down or maybe they just need to renew the Domain name. Lets hope it is a simple solution to solve this problem. The Lchain is a wonderful site, I love all the updates onthe women and isn't it the way Lynnell get her orders ?

Hey y'all...

there are so many Fans concerned about this. I wrote to Hailey at her email address & just asked if someone could let the Fans know what's up!

I did read that the site is paid for until 2006.

Keep us informed if y'all read anything!

FETCH --- what kind of word is that to use????

For Dogs/Dawgs Only!

OK, some say the site is back up! However, it's not working for me, yet!

I do not recall anything being posted on there that was a "spoiler" or "breach of contract", did any of you????

OK, hope we all can access her site - eventually! :unsure:

I actually did get the site to come up for me tonight. What a relief to know it is paid up until 2006. I love looking at all of Lynnell's pics!

btw-- I think it sounded stupid when it stated that it couldn't fetch the domain. It does sound like a dog going to get it or something. :huh: Strange way to word it but whatever. So I agree with you 100% on that one, HD.

Actually 2, dawgs are getting to be more well known. In town we are the Bulldogs but they are referred to alot as the Bull Dawgs.

Do you think she was referring to you? Why would that be? I'm very curious now. Are you going to leave me hanging???? :dry: :unsure: :P :y32b4:

I was able to go and open the site last night.
It was so nice to see all the new pictures...
AND in some of the pictures we see Hailey standing in the same pictures with her twin.
I hope they are speaking and learning to love the adult in each other.

And they say Canadians have a funny way of talking :huh: :huh: :huh: :P :P :P :lol: :lol: :lol:

I checked the site again today it goes down after a few minutes it almost it like a time is on. so who knows. I checked a couple of things and then it didn't work.
they did add some updates though.

At least I know I'm not the only one to have problems with thelchain web site. It seems like the ad blanks out the screen for me.

But new pics? This I have to see! Thanks for the update. I am so glad it is still up and running.

I think it's GREAT NEWS!!!

Lynnell has updated her site with a New Year's Eve letter of Reflection back on 2004 - and - PICTURES!!!

We're always glad to see PICTURES!

Hailey's Artwork had a different painting at top.

WE APPRECIATE YOU & YOUR SITE LYNNELL!!!

And she even tells the story about her name!
Cool.

I got in the site by going thru Our Story..

Has everyone gone to Lynnell & Hailey's site to see the New Pictures they Posted???

How about the individual New Year's letters they wrote???

I think that's Great they did that talking about their time in the Starting Over House and the Year they had!!!

Where would I begin....well first I had to be watching the show then really liked it then... you get the picture...met the girls and we became The BANDITAS!!! and we are here in the Year 2005!!!

Thanks Ladies!

I was there a couple weeks ago browsing around. No clue.. Maybe she's not doing the crocheting anymore. I know Lynell and Hailey both had myspace accts..

I did like the lchain site for the photos but they hadn't been updated in quite awhile. With the show gone, I wouldn't be surprised if she ditched it... Seems I heard she was having some bad health several months ago... But I saw her myspace acct. and she looked ok.. was active on that. Hopefully she's doing ok..

Re: thelchain

Thanks KPW that would make sense they could have ditched it cuz of the show and now using myspace which is free ????? could be why???? I don't know.

Surprise, Surprise... It's back up..

Not sure if there are any changes on it. Maybe a couple notes..
