
Bill Clinton?

Posted by Tara - 2006/11/01 14:48

I have seen Bill Clinton on the TV twice in the past month or so and each time I see him he look stranger. I can't tell if he's sick or if he's had some plastic Surgery.

He just looks strange!

I have seen him and think he looks sick. I worry that there is more to his weight loss than concern for his heart condition. He doesn't look healthy IMO.

He has always had those big bags under his eyes that puts waY too many years on him. He should have those removed. It would shave 15 years off his age.

Apparently he and Hillary have been doing some major celebrating of their 25 or 26 anviversity or something. I forget the exact number it may be 30 years. ANyway they have been spotted at the Streisand concert hugging and also at the Rolling Stones rocking out to their tunes. So he must not be too sick if he's out and bout on all these shows.

Bill and Hill were at the Stones concert with Chelsea celebrating their 31st wedding anniversary...gotta give kudos to Bill for putting up with her all these years. I'm not a Hillary fan by any means, and not so much with Bill either, think he compromised himself as President of the United States messing with Monica, but he is a smart man...no doubt about it. I've just had my fill of the Billary family...that's all

Bill Clinton definitely looks like he is not in the best of health. As President...I voted for him, I think he was a great President... his issues were personal.....he had a blow job...he did not take us to an Illegal war...he did not ignore a national crisis like "Katrina"...he lowered our national debt and he used diplomacy.

Unlike GWB....Who lies to the American people on a daily basis.....we have the highest debt in the history of our country.....he wants to demolish Social Security.....He has detroyed diplomacy and support with our allies...he has caused more division in the US since the Civil War.

By the way...GWD not only looks like crap, he is crap!

Tara, I saw a Bill Clinton impersonator on Larry King Live last week. I wonder if you may have seen him and mistaken him for the real Bill. He looks so much like him that it its incredible!!

This guy also does George Bush and others. He also performed as George on the show. I could hardly believe it. He sounds like these people, looks like them and acts like them. I had never seen him before.

They showed the hours of makeup that he has to undergo. It's actually more than makeup, it's like fabric and glue and fake facial parts under the makeup.

Anyway, I just thought about this post when I saw him last weekend. Check it out if you can.

Yes, that would be it...lol

I didn't watch the whole thing. I saw bits and pieces of it and thought this he was looking and acting really odd. It never even dawned on me that it wasn't really him!

I bet many people think the same thing! Larry King was acting like this guy was the real mccooy. He would chuckle a bit, and look down, but then continue to ask questions that he would really ask the real person. It was really wild. I wonder if this is the same guy who appears as Bush with Barbara Streisand on stage. He actually appeared at the White House with the real Bush for some kind of function, birthday, I think. I had to look back and forth between them to figure out which was which.

LOL... same guy... his name is Steve Bridges and he was the George Bush impersonator who appeared with Barbara Streisand.

I thought it strange that people were offended by the political humor... it is nice that George Bush had him to the White House and was able to laugh at himself. A lot of comedians would be out of work if people were easily offended by political humor. I personally love it. LOL
