Hey you guys,

I just wanted to say Hi. I'm a big fan of Starting Over and I'm so disappointed SO is not in the new fall line up. I believe if the show was geared for Men and Women, there would be more interest in it.

As it stands, the show seems to imply, only women have the desire to start over. WRONG! we are all worthy of starting Over.

Good point. I always wondered if they could find guys who would be willing to do a show like this and bare their problems and feelings. Maybe it would have helped me to understand guys better.
