Antonia info

Cannot confirm since I do not have the Style network. Apparently someone posted at the Reality Tv World site..that they saw her on a show titled 'Shopaholic 911'... on 11/27.

Here is the link...

I'm not familiar with the show... Can't find it on Style's schedule... but am getting a hit regarding a show by that title associated with Style.

Maybe it was an older show...and they used it as a filler...and the show was actually done before came to SO last year. At this point she has only been out of the house less than a year. I thought she had made good progress.. I will hope that is the case...and that maybe before she came to SO this show was done! I want to give her the benefit of the doubt!

I did find a cached link to the schedule for that day. It just says that it was a special. It looks like they have a similar show titled 'Maxed Out' which is a regular show... Maybe stemming from the same problem that seems to be quite common.

(sorry for the long link... I think it's because it was from a cache)
(earlier attempts doing a search would get me a hit, but the hit would take me to the current schedule which was not yielding the info)

Thanks KP for the Update on Antonia

It's sad to hear that she's back to her old self again I guess SO was just a waste of time for them and her. As for what Beebop @ RTW.com mentioned I agree, why doesn't she seek some real professional help for her problem instead of going on to these reality shows if she really wants to change.

I don't feel sorry for her one bit sorry to say.

I think I have that channel. I'll try to check it out if I have time.
