
NO SNOW

Posted by Nadia - 2006/12/24 12:56

Well that's pretty sad to hear! We aren't going to have any snow here for Christmas :angry: :(more like RAIN!!! it would have been nice for just the one day and then be gone with it.

I can't remember now if we had any snow last year for Christmas I don't think we did or maybe just a little of it.

Oh well... I was hoping for a White Christmas it just sux to hear that that it's calling for some RAIN tomorrow. Weird huh...

I think they are calling for rain here too.. Last I heard anyway..

(I'm in the D.C. area)..

Nadia, I thought you were in Canada??? Maybe I am mistaken..

But be careful what you wish for.. If they are calling for rain...and the temps drop...you could wind up with quite a bit of snow!

Hey grizz that would be nice if you can send some snow our way but only for the day thanks LOL.

KPW.. I do live in Canada, Ontario but we have no snow yet! LOL some parts in Ontario have already had snow like barrie and up north in the boonies. But in Mississauga or Toronto we haven't got any not one lil bit didn't even get a taste of it yet.

We got dumped on here! Friday we had nothing, and by the end of the day, six inches! It was wonderful to see, and no one complained. We got the big fluffy flakes, the really heavy stuff. Kids LOVE it!

Grizz... I heard that Colorado was expecting another snow storm, and I immediately thought of you. Stay safe.

Thanks mazzy!! I got out and did all my errands and stocked up on all the groceries we'd need!! Now hopefully hubby won't try to get to work and get caught again!! The storm is supposed to come in by tomorrow noon, and he said he has work to do and has to go in the a.m. but should have enough time.

That's exactly what he said last Wednesday!!! :huh:

I'm getting cold just thinking about snow... LOL.

Did DH sleep at the office, or was he able to get a hotel room? If he was uncomfortable last time... maybe today he'll get moving earlier... LOL.

Stay warm... stay safe...

He did go in really early.....and this storm is moving slower than last week's. That's why it's actually supposed to dump more snow!! But only if it stays slow and stalls over us.....so we'll just have to wait and see!

I-25 is already on the Chain Law.....it's nasty!!

DH got home around 2:30.....he left Denver at noon.....slow going!!! He could have had a hotel room, but he said he just wanted to get more work done and slept in his sleeping bag on the office floor.....but he was sore the next day!! Not quite as young as he used to be!!! ;)

Thanks for checking in mazzy.....we're all staying put and cozy now!! I'll keep you updated on the amount of snow if it dumps the 3 feet by Sunday they're calling for!!! :D

Grizz,
Please tell me you guys have a snow blower? The thought of all that shoveling boggles my mind! We sure are spoiled now aren't we! In my area some people have them some don't... We rarely get big snows anymore.

Re:NO SNOW

Posted by grizzlys4 - 2006/12/29 20:32

Nope! No snow blower.....hubby and son take turns shovelling! My son went to shovel a bit of our elderly neighbor's walkway, but snow is still falling, so we'll likely have to wait until later Sunday to do that!

We did manage to get to the store.....it's tough, but we've got a great vehicle and good tires.

If the storm does it's wrap around we'll get hit again tomorrow and Sunday.....we're in a bit of a lull right now. We've got such huge piles of snow.....the kids all love it!!!!

WOW... thanks for the update... Brrrrr... I'm originally from New York... the most snow we ever had was 27 inches...

according to DH... he remembers more clearly as he was in charge of removal... LOL. I was in charge of making the hot chocolate, but my daughter and I did help.

We had a snow blower, and it was useful if you used it before the snow piled up... if it got too deep it was useless.

Grizz, please continue to update us... as you have become very special to us all... me anyway... LOL.

Awwww.....thanks!!! :D

The second storm moved out fast, so not quite as bad. Still lots of fun snow. My dogs are just loving it!! Of course, THEY don't have to shovel it!!! LOL

The wind is still something though.....so it gets cold so quick when trying to be outside. I'm loving all our snow.....hopefully we won't have quite the drought and fire issues this coming summer!!

How's your weather this winter??
