
Need Some Support

Posted by LizzyPoo - 2007/02/21 03:49

Hello Everyone,

I have not been on SOT in a long time because I've been going through some problems. I've been trying to find a psychologist in my area to give me some support. It's been hard to find one because I have a disability and a lot of them don't accept my insurances.

My mother died on February 21, 1999 and I'm still having a hard time dealing with it. I am back on SOT because I need some support. :blush:

Welcome back.....I'm not on as often with such a busy life right now.....but I sure hope you can find some support and relief! Is there a County Services phone number you can call? Hugs and hang in there!

Hi Nadia,

I missed you too. I'm still looking for a therapist who will accept my medical insurances. I am so desperate I contacted The Phil Show. LOL!!!:laugh:
