Good mornin!! I started watchin Starting Over somewhere durin the first season. I was heartbroken when it was cancelled! I spent an hour everyday laughin and cryin with those lovely ladies.....Lunchtime hasn't been the same since!

I am 33 years old married with young kids....I am really psyched to see there are still Starting Over fans still out here!!!

Hey Whisperinghope. I like your name.

I stroll down memory lane myself once in awhile and think of the enjoyment I got from getting home from work and watching my favorite show. (I recorded the show and watched at night).

I like to think I learned some life lessons from the ladies and DR. Stan. I also like to think that something will come along that resembles the show at least a little bit.

Welcome to SOT.
