If you have the chance please check out the children competing on CBS's The Early Show. I would appreciate it. If you would vote, I would appreciate that as well. THE deadline to vote on-line is Wednesday March 7 at noon. You can vote as often as you wish.
Check out the talent too.

There are 2 little girls competing from my state of North Carolina. I received an email from my endocrinologist about Madeline Edwards. She is a great singer. She is living with Type I (Juvenile Diabetes) so I can relate to her situation. I am also a Type I Diabetic. THE nurses in his office say Madeline is such a sweet child.

The other little girl is Katherine Fritsch. She is from my town of Raleigh, NC. I just happen to check out her performance on the live video you can watch. Wow. She is quite a performer too. I'm supposed to be drumming up votes for Madeline because of the Diabetes connection, but, they are both great talents. You be the judge.
