Nadia, the photo of Star in the link you give above is much more flattering to her than the ones I saw last week. A couple were on tv and one was on the View. She didn't look healthy in the ones I saw earlier. Her face looked very thin and drawn like a starvation patient. Her body was so skinny, she looked like she weighed under 100 pounds.

The one in the link above she does look good. I wonder which ones were taken most recently.

I do hope her show goes well.

I thought it was interesting and also very good conduct for The View when Rosie announced that and wished her well!!!

TMZ had a picture of her at her bday party this week or past weekend.

I thought it worthy of a link... I don't think it was very flattering... I'm sure she's dealing with alot of stress yet.. Hubby is in picture too.

Another item on TMZ today showed a colorforms type doll featuring Star Jones. Not sure if it's on the up and up...or just a joke..

Oh it's an ebay item!

Larry King said that Star Jones will be hosting a Larry King show... forgot when.

Seems she is ready for a come back... I'm not sure she will make it. I could see her on a show like Greta Van Susteran (sp)... a legal eagle of sorts.

She's filling in tonight! 4/2

I'm 5 minutes into the 9 o clock show (EST) But I think it is replayed later at 11 or midnight..

The website for his show, usually has transcripts available.

She seems rather subdued.. Perhaps out of her element.. or just not comfortable yet.. She's interviewing Beyonce.. But the guest is doing 90% of the talking.. The couple times I've seen Star, she's referring to her notes alot.

Easily... no way... I can see her eating humble pie and playing nice with others... she got used to the big bucks and may do whatever she needs to to, but easily... no...LOL.
