I can see that, but don't you think that would be an easy job to get tired of? Can you imagine doing that same thing over and over all year long? It would drive me crazy.

Me too, but I think with alot of the game shows and even some talk shows...they tape more than 1 show a day... I think he'll still be able to pursue other projects..

It sounds like he had done a pilot for another game show to debut this fall and someone who saw it saw his potential.. I think the show or head honcho's pursued him and not vice versa.. Maybe the 'Price was Right' and he couldn't refused! He'd probably be able to pull in a whole new generation of viewers!

Love Drew!! I remember watching him on "Star Search" many years ago!! Thats where he and Rosie got their starts!!! I'm sure he will make the show. The other one that he will be doing is a game show where you have to get in the % of the answers.

Need to see how he does!!

I DO love Drew Carey.....it'll be interesting to see him in this venue.....I'm thinking "they" wanted someone really different than Bob since you really cannot replace a guy like that! Well, I guess we shall see??!! When do the new shows start??

I'm not sure, but I saw him advertising another new show that he is hosting about Top 5 questions. YOu can winner a million dollars! It looks pretty good to me and I'm not a big game show person.
