Hi it's me old friend Nadia here... I haven't been here in awhile, I have popped in here from time to time to see what was new but my life has been so busy and I'm know just starting to settle down. For those that remember me I've got married, bought a house and had a baby all in the same year so it's been pretty tough.

I want to say Hi to everyone hope you guys are all doing well, hope you all had a wonderful Christmas! I still see some familiar names here at SOT that's good and some new. Hope to chat with some of you again and catch up... is there still a chatroom here? I'm going to need a few hours or a day to get the hang of this but all in all Tara you've done a great job to the site like always.

Take care,
Chat soon

It's great to hear from you. I have been out since Dec. 19. It's good to hear from you. It sounds as if you have REALLY been busy.

NADIA...Well, congratulations on the marriage and the baby! What a cutie patutie! I just posted a question to you on another thread asking if you had gotten married yet. Last time I talked to you, you were engaged....that was like forever ago.

I haven't been here in such a long time, just too busy. I am on vacation now so have the sime to mess around on the computer. Nadia, do you remember 'Reader' she also went by the name 'swimmer', anyway she passed away suddenly Jan 8th from a blood clot. She was the one who had 7 kids, (two sets of twins) It was such a shock, I had keep in touch with her on gmail messenger.

Anyway, so happy for you for the baby, the house and the marriage.

Maggie the Magpie :)
