
Desperate Housewives

Posted by netty - 2005/04/18 16:57

Anybody connect with any of these women? On a personal note, one of the characters shares my name, which NEVER happens....but she spells it differently. The few times I've read my name, they're spelled differently.

=====

Re:Desperate Housewives

Posted by Tara - 2005/04/18 18:09

I love the show but I really don't connect or identify with ant of the woman at all. I think Susan would probably be the person who I would come anywhere close to identifying with.

=====

Re:Desperate Housewives

Posted by netty - 2005/04/18 19:22

You're only sayin' that cause she's the sanest! Oddly enough, I would have to say I relate to Lynette. She's a frenzied mom with a hubby who's (though better than mine) not as helpful as he should be. Like me, she gets by on humour. Of course, takin' her kids' Ritalin was a bit much for me. LOL

=====

Re:Desperate Housewives

Posted by netty - 2005/04/21 18:30

<http://abc.go.com/primetime/desperate/index.html>

The official site.

=====

Re:Desperate Housewives

Posted by netty - 2005/04/21 18:35

Marcia Cross: Yep, I'm Not Gay

"Desperate Housewives" star denies lesbian rumors; Plus, is Drew a bad breaker-upper?

<http://entertainment.msn.com/celebs/article.aspx?news=181071>

=====

Re:Desperate Housewives

Posted by supermom - 2005/06/06 19:42

I know the season has ended, but I loved this show!!

I had the last two episodes on tape and I finally had the time to watch them. The season finale was a good one. I can't wait to see what happens.

=====

Re:Desperate Housewives

Posted by netty - 2005/09/23 21:09

season premier this Sunday!!!!!!!!!!

=====

Re:Desperate Housewives

Posted by Babyface - 2005/09/24 17:52

I AM getting ready to watch it now Netty! Can't wait 2 see it!

=====

Re:Desperate Housewives

Posted by Tara - 2005/09/24 18:02

I can't wait either!!!!

=====

Re:Desperate Housewives

Posted by netty - 2005/09/24 22:52

Turns out I have to babysit my honey's grandchildren, so I'll have to tape it...no cable or satellite at their house. :angry: :(:angry:

=====

Re:Desperate Housewives

Posted by netty - 2005/09/25 11:10

Found this is my prep for tonight's premiere: <http://tv.msn.com/news/article.aspx?news=202284>1=6955>

'Desperate Housewives' Opens New Season
Hit ABC series is back, joining other serial shows

By Frazier Moore
Associated Press

With the return of "Desperate Housewives," scads of pressing questions will be answered. Or at least addressed. Or something. Please!

Ever since the hit ABC series wrapped its first season, fans have been marking time, itching to learn what lies ahead for Bree (Marcia Cross) whose husband Rex up and died on the finale.

Will the grieving widow have to defend herself against accusations by Rex's doctor that she -- at one point a vengeful, cheated-on wife -- is somehow responsible for his death? And what about George, Bree's creepy suitor? Can there be any doubt that this Bree-obsessed pharmacist tampered with Rex's medicine? When will the murderous scheme come to light?

But that's not all the show left hanging four long months ago.

Mike -- the hunky plumber who dates Susan (Teri Hatcher) -- was last seen walking into an ambush by unhinged teenager Zach, who was holding Susan at gunpoint while holed up in Mike's house. How will Mike save the day?

Oh, and by the way, how is Zach gonna take the news that he's really Mike's son?

These and other matters will be dealt with (hope, hope!) in the season premiere airing 9 p.m. ET Sunday, as "Desperate Housewives" resumes the narrative juggling act that made this mystery/melodrama/boudoir comedy last year's most popular new show.

It joins no fewer than a dozen new dramas that take a similarly serial approach to their storytelling -- and whose arrival on the schedule "Desperate Housewives" surely helped inspire.

By now you already know that Lynette (just-crowned Emmy winner Felicity Huffman) is going back to work and leaving her hubby to play Mr. Mom. Gabrielle (Eva Longoria) is expecting a child -- maybe her husband's, maybe not -- as her husband heads to jail. Susan's ex will get it on with Edie (Nicollette Sheridan). And Betty (new cast member Alfre Woodard) settles in with Some Sort of Secret only her teenage son shares.

In short, complications run wild on Wisteria Lane, where each answer seems to breed only another question.

=====

Re:Desperate Housewives

Posted by netty - 2005/09/25 17:52

Eight minutes....get ready...I'm likely gonna disappear from SOT for an hour!!!:woohoo: :woohoo: :woohoo:

=====

Re:Desperate Housewives

Posted by netty - 2005/09/25 19:01

who's in the basement? Paul? Zach?

any guesses?

=====

Re:Desperate Housewives

Posted by flmedgirl - 2005/09/26 08:37

I think it's the woman's husband. When the son said his father was dead and the mother asked him why he did it to leave the creativity to her and how they take the dinner down every night, I dont' know, but I love the show.

=====

Re:Desperate Housewives

Posted by netty - 2005/09/26 10:22

I thought about that...but seemed obvious....hmm....next week?

=====

Re:Desperate Housewives

Posted by flmedgirl - 2005/09/26 10:46

yeah that is pretty obvious but I don't think it could be Zack or Paul just because Paul was out in the dessert with Mike and Zack was held up in the house when they moved in during the night. I heard Mike giving an interview on the radio this morning that said half way through the season they will lose another cast member...I think it's going to get good.

=====

Re:Desperate Housewives

Posted by Babyface - 2005/09/26 13:36

I thought the first episode this season was really good! A long wait.... but worth it. I'm not really sure who would be in the basement but, they do have a deep dark secret! And they might keep you guessing til the end.... Like Mary Alice's secret last Season. Who knows?

Re:Desperate Housewives

Posted by netty - 2005/09/26 23:35

Episode 2.02: You Could Drive a Person Crazy

Airdate: October 2, 2005

09/19 - Susan is surprised, and not pleasantly so, when she finds out who Edie's new boyfriend is. Meanwhile Lynette goes back to work, leaving Tom at home in charge of the house, which turns out to be a better plan in theory. Bree's mother-in-law, Phyllis (guest star Shirley Knight), continues to drive Bree crazy with her melodramatic grieving, and Carlos makes an unusual request of Gabrielle. Guest starring are Shirley Knight as Phyllis Van De Kamp, Pat Crawford Brown as Ida Greenberg, Brian George as Mr. Pashmutter, Alexandra Lydon as Rita Rivara, Lenora May as Dr. Mackenzie, Terry Bozeman as Dr. Craig, Daniel Roebuck as Mr. Flannery, Loren Lester as Dr. Baker, Ridge Canipe as Danny Farrell and Harry S. Murphy as Mr. Lentz. Source: ABC

09/19 - Susan seethes when she finds out about Edie and Karl (Richard Burgi); Lynette begins her new job and Tom begins his -- as a househusband; Carlos has a favor to ask of Gaby; and Bree's mother-in-law (Shirley Knight) continues to drive her crazy. Source: TV Guide Online

09/14 - Susan is surprised to learn the identity of Edie's new boyfriend; Lynette heads back to work, leaving Tom in charge of the house; Bree suffers through her mother-in-law's melodramatic grieving. Source: WCHS TV 8

09/11 - Shirley Knight ("Divine Secrets of the Ya-Ya Sisterhood") will also guest-star in the episode as Rex Van De Camp's (the departed Steven Culp) mother. Source: ABC

07/22 - One of the housewives is late with her newspaper payments, and gets in a fight with the paperboy. Source: SpoilerFix.com

07/20 - One of the housewives is hitting up different therapists for medication. Gabrielle brings cash to a woman in a bad neighborhood, which she ultimately holds on to herself. Source: SpoilerFix.com

07/19 - Lynette settles in at her job, and is being pitched an ad campaign by two young writers. One of the housewives is visited by the mother of someone who died, and the mother is crying all the time, in the restaurant, at the drycleaner. Source: SpoilerFix.com

Re:Desperate Housewives

Posted by flmedgirl - 2005/10/31 08:19

What's going on with DH? I turned it on and it's already to reruns????? I heard a few other shows like Lost was like that too. Does anyone know what's going on?

Re:Desperate Housewives

Posted by Brad - 2005/12/12 16:14

I missed the two last weeks of desperate housewives due to falling asleep, and the survivor finale! Will someone please fill me in on what i missed i would so appreciate it. Thank you.
