
Beautiful People

Posted by Cosmicqueen - 2005/05/07 16:51

I just would like to convey how honored I am to see so much beauty coming from a show. The hardest thing in life is to want to see another human become all they can be. Let alone...wanting only the very best for another human.

Coaches, Doctors and people that are in the arena of counsel have a tuff job. Energetically speaking it can be very tasking let alone a challenge.

I commend the people that are doing so much beauty and good...which I can see it is not only for the benifit of the human spirit on an individual basis...but across the board....you know viewers. These seeds that are being planted are a strength that will enable woman to realize they do matter and there is a beautiful flower waitng to blossom in each and everyone of us.

Cosmically speaking, I suggest to my clients that they watch the program as it is a powerful learning tool to self realization. Each person on the show has something to offer to awaken people on some level. I suspect that was the intent when the show was conceptualized?

The spirtual anatomy is a powerful unseen force that lives in us all. Starting Over is a powerful force that unlocks this realization.

Blessings to you all for your hard work and dedication.

Post edited by: Cosmicqueen, at: 2005/05/07 19:54

Post edited by: Cosmicqueen, at: 2005/05/07 19:55

=====

Re:Beautiful People

Posted by honeyb - 2005/05/07 19:02

:rolleyes: Welcome to the site, cosmicqueen: How very eloquent your post was written! I'm impressed and I was wondering if you would share with us how you chose your nick-name? That intriges me, for some reason. Wow, you are a long way from where I live in Ohio! Hope you can get in on the chats sometime, I would love to talk to you. I feel as you do; I think the show was designed as a tool to help women realize they are worthy and they do have the right to pursue whatever it takes to fulfill their needs, whatever they may be. I sense that you have learned from watching as we all have. Welcome, and stay around the site, we are a very supporting group of people here, we all try to voice our opinion on topic's and sometimes we disagree, but we always agree that we are here for each other, no matter how big or small the problem is, we help each other. again, welcome!!

=====

Re:Beautiful People

Posted by Cosmicqueen - 2005/05/08 00:25

I have to laugh as so many people have asked me the same thing. I have been very dedicated to the universe and healing of many people and it was a name that was given to me from a friend. It has just stuck with me through the years.

I have tried to get into chat many times to no avail. I will figure that out one day soon.

As far as learning from the show....well it is mostly I have lived though a lot of what these ladies have endured so it is all familiar territory to me. The only thing is that these woman have support systems in place to help them, and that I am greatful for.

Thank you for your kind words.

Blessings,

Cosmicqueen aka: Cq

=====