TV Court Shows

I love how Judge Judy sets up her comments by having Byrd get involved than to just get to the punchline.

I enjoy some of the court shows too.

Judge Mablean sets up her deputy too...with some of the issues..

I like her... But not crazy about the crazy divorce messes that are put before her... I'm sure they look for the wild and craziest ones to appeal to audiences. I think she really does give the couples good advice..

I like Judge Judy and Judge Miliani (People's Court)... I sometimes will watch Judge Mathis if nothing else is on...

Did I say, I need a life?

Yeah, I like Judge Judy and I love Judge Milian. I can't stand Divorce Court.....those couples about drive me over the edge!!! I also like some of the actual court t.v. shows too. Very informative.....but I have to limit the viewing or I start having too many nightmares about these horrendous people that are still walking our streets!!! :ohmy:

Yeah, Watching them definitely gives you alot of tips on what to do and what not to do... in alot of various circumstances..

And definitely puts the alert out that there are some major scammers out there and what to do to protect yourself.

While I really like Judge Judy, she is a hoot.. she sometimes goes overboard humiliating some of the folks.. Some of them deserve it though...

I'm sure if we walked into our local courtroom, we'd see the same type cases but without an entertaining judge!

I know I had a contractor a couple years ago that I would have liked to take to court... Caused us major problems and renegeed on some things. Seemed like too much hassle.. But in retrospect maybe I should have.

Well, I just stumbled on another newbie...

Christina's court. The case I'm seeing (and I've only tuned in for a couple of minutes thus far).. involves divorced parents who both seem to be remarried and the discipline of what appears to be a teenage son by the step father.

Not sure if this court show will deal with family cases or what.. I'd think it wouldn't be the same old, same old... court show or at least would strive to be different to set itself apart... from the typical small claims cases.

In the D.C. area here it's on at 1:00 on channel 5.
