
Variety reviews The Bad Girls Club

I think I am greatly amused by this article! Variety used to be and hopefully still is the premiere entertainment newspaper... I haven't found any other reviews yet... I'm sure based on the the 10 minute clip I saw at Oxygen's site... that the first episode which will be shown daily.. for the first week... is light on drama and is establishing the house..and personalities of the girls. Much like SO did when they would start a new season..

Variety seems to think this show has all the makings of one big flop!
Time will tell... I'm hoping they are right!

That was great!! I loved the statement that they wanted their 15 minutes and a shot at the "Battle of the Reality Network Stars 2009". BWAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAAHAA!!!

Yeah, the old "I didn't sign up for this" LIE.....yes you did if you read your contract!!! :ohmy:

What a great review!!!! Where's Ty now????? We knew it would stink. I haven't got a chance to see it yet though. I would like to see one for myself. but I can't see wanting to watch a show where the women are all so unlikable.

Bad Girls is the most sleaziest thing I have ever seen on TV. What is M/M thinking. How could you cancel a wonderful show like Starting Over and give the public Bad Girls Club. I have never seen such a dire act of desperation in my life. Go figure.:sick:
