
OJ's book publisher fired!

Surprise, surprise! I'm sure she didn't have 100% responsibility in this fiasco! Someone higher up had to ok..the project I would think and also the television program pitch.. I think she is probably taking the heat off the publishing company. It's probably been terrible publicity!

At least OJ's book and show were cancelled. It is a bit hard to feel bad for her considering she spearheaded a project that exploited OJ's victims.

I am not defending her.. Just think that there was likely more than her pushing the book and tv platform..

I was flabbergasted when I heard about it..and came and griped about it here! I have a little more faith in mankind since it seems like it was universally balked at! The audacity of OJ, the publisher and the station...

I was just glad to see an example set for this publisher... and others seeking to do similar publicity gimmicks..

Just was in very very poor taste! IMHO!
