
Whats up with people and Bad Girls Club

Posted by blackanese09 - 2007/01/14 13:15

so yea im new to this site, and im a biiiggg fan of bad girls club.like its awesome, but when i read reviews/ topics or what yall think about the show like all i read is like negative things.like from what ive seen on the bad girls club website,these girls have been through so much stuff and like yall give them no credit what so ever,and omg like i read one topic and like yall tried to like dog ty out.which is impossible because shes awesome, but like yall try to find bad things and yall dont know like crap about any of those wonderful women.idk.I thought this was a postive site.not lets all be mean and negative and down the cast members.

=====

Re:Whats up with people and Bad Girls Club

Posted by KPW1956 - 2007/01/14 15:19

The show compared to Starting Over stinks...

Many of us are alot older than the women portrayed..so their behavior is bizarre to the majority of us...

If you'd seen Ty's blog at her Myspace site.. then you would understand some of the negativity. She didn't like hearing what was said.. and was pretty disrespectful of this site..

She created a Myspace page for the badgirlclub...and Oxygen has a forum just for fans of the show.

What members here have to say about the show should be respected as well.

This isn't a Bad Girls fan club forum... so don't take the criticism personally. Nothing against the girls themselves.. mostly though the criticism should be directed at the producers who are exploiting those girls..and not really helping them.

=====

Re:Whats up with people and Bad Girls Club

Posted by TigerRose - 2007/01/14 18:37

The negative reviews I've read on here has been towards how the girls are portrayed.... not at the girls themselves. Just like Starting Over.. the girls have problems and that in no way reflects thier worth... but when producers concentrate on their bad behavior and the drama it causes does not help highlight how they overcome their problems. I haven't seen any negative comments being directed to the girls but at the show's format (there is a difference).

Most of us here really do prefer to see the girls overcome the past and mature and become proud of who they are... Sorta hard when the producers don't want to show that side... all for the name of ratings. A lot of us watched Starting Over to help ourselves improve and grow by watching and sharing with the women.

Personally I don't want to watch a show that seems to put worth on the drama and the fighting over the triumphs. I'd rather root for personal growth than a tantrum. If I want drama.. all I need to do is turn on a show where people are paid to act out a drama or turn on Jerry Springer and see people who's problems are exploited and bad behavior glorified or closer yet.. look out the window, plenty of it on the streets in some areas... ... No thank you.

=====

Re:Whats up with people and Bad Girls Club

Posted by Debby - 2007/01/15 13:43

This is my first post about Bad Girls Club because I just got my first chance to see the show. I actually watched about 4 episodes back to back. I must say that I was surprised that it wasn't nearly as bad as I thought it would be, (pardon the pun).

I can't remember all the names of the ladies yet, but, I kinda liked it. No, it is nothing like SO, but, I think it has it's place. I do think the show would be so much more interesting if there were counseling intervention. THAT would give the show meaning.

From what I can see it's pretty much an older version of the Real World. This entails throwing people together with alcohol, partying, sex, fighting and hoping all hell breaks loose for the benefit of the ratings. This is pretty obvious but I suspect that BM has been disappointed that with only a few exceptions, the ladies have demonstrated rather good behavior.

Some of the hg really do have a pretty good head on their shoulders and with some good therapy, could really work on some issues they are dealing with.

Except for the one girl who went crazy while drunk and attacked the other one, I didn't see that much discord amongst the hg....just petty stuff. The girl who went off like that really needed some professional help. Perhaps help in a facility, IMO.

I do intend to watch again. I don't anticipate I will have as much to say about these ladies as I did those on SO. One thing I noticed the shows had in common was the producers sent a POOL BOY, to clean the pool and amuse the ladies. I forgot what SO ladies did with their pool guy, but, the Bad Girls, ended up bumping and grinding with theirs on the dance floor! LOL.

Re:Whats up with people and Bad Girls Club

Posted by doxygirl - 2007/01/15 16:06

I tend to see the new show the way you do Debby. Maybe it's about expectations. Anything that replaced SO was bound to be scrutinized especially on a site where people loved SO and were devastated when it was cancelled. If the expectation was that the new show would be another SO, or would "deserve" SO's programming spot, or would use similar techniques and coaches, then there is bound to be disappointment. The new show is pretty outlandish at times, it's true. Of course, even SO had some pretty questionable "exercises" and outrageous scenes now and then, and it often looked like there was off-camera activity to egg people on once the cameras started rolling again. But all in all, SO was about life changes, goals and specific steps to reach them, which made the show valuable from a learning and caring standpoint. Obviously Bad Girls is not that kind of show. But if it's just viewed as another take on a "Real World" type of show, then it is what it is and it isn't as much of a disappointment - except for the fact that it replaced SO.

Re:Whats up with people and Bad Girls Club

Posted by Debby - 2007/01/15 17:12

Doxygirl, I in no way think Bad Girls Club replaces SO....no way!

It's not even close. I do think it is ironic that it seems the format of the show was set up by BM to be a more outlandish, high drama program than that of SO, however, IMO, it really doesn't capture as much real drama as SO did. LOL. I think it's kinda funny. Maybe their gamble didn't pay off very well.

SO was a much better show, from production to editing, casting, you name it. I really don't see Bad Girls Club around for a another season. I wonder if Bad Girls' rating are any better than SO. I don't think that most viewers who are the age of the women on the show, are very amused watching those women with that life style, without more behind it. If they could modify the format and add some real substance, I think it could make a difference.

Still, the show is not as bad as I expected it to be after seeing that drunken brawl scene on the previews. That was something else. But, from the episodes I have seen so far, that kind of thing is not the norm in the house.

Re:Whats up with people and Bad Girls Club

Posted by doxygirl - 2007/01/15 17:43

I agree completely. I meant only that Bad Girls replaced SO in the schedule and came from the same company - and that makes it a disappointment when compared to SO. But out of the shadow of SO, it's just a different take on a "Real World" type of format and not as bad as I expected either, in that light.

Re:Whats up with people and Bad Girls Club

Posted by Nadia - 2007/01/16 03:06

blackanese09 wrote:

so yea im new to this site, and im a biiiggg fan of bad girls club.like its awesome, but when i read reviews/ topics or what yall think about the show like all i read is like negative things.like from what ive seen on the bad girls club website,these girls have been through so much stuff and like yall give them no credit what so ever,and omg like i read one topic and like yall tried to like dog ty out.which is impossible because shes awesome, but like yall try to find bad things and yall dont know like crap about any of those wonderful women.idk.I thought this was a postive site.not lets all be mean and negative and down the cast members.

If the show bad girls club is what your into and you're such a fan of it then that's cool. But as far as saying that we "DOG"d TY I suggest you take a look on who dogged who first and as far as I'm concerned and many others here....this is a positive site, it's ppl that come here that don't have a clue as to what they are talking about and likes to cause S*&&! amongst other members here..those are the ppl that think that it's not a "positive site" and if it doesn't work for you here..then why are you here?

Re:Whats up with people and Bad Girls Club

Posted by blackanese09 - 2007/01/19 23:34

wow!it isnt the site that negative.im sorry for misjudging it so quickly.its people on the boards.

Re:Whats up with people and Bad Girls Club

Posted by Debby - 2007/01/22 15:16

Somehow I missed Bad Girls this week, but, I saw a preview and heard some rumor that can't be true. It sounded like one of the hg was leaving because another hg had guest in the house that were of a different race. This is hard to believe. Is it true? Fill me in if anyone saw it. I caught the tail end of the story on the news this morning.

Re:Whats up with people and Bad Girls Club

Posted by KPW1956 - 2007/01/22 16:19

I'm not really following the show (no longer have Oxygen)... Waiting for it's demise...

But.. I've been trying to follow recaps and forum chatter so that I can be the first to jump on the news! LOL!

I saw someone say on the Oxygen forum for the show...that Leslie and Ty both leave before the end of the season.. Also rumored that Ripsi comes back.. It was alluded to that Ty gets into it with someone.. Maybe Aimee?

A girl from the house who supposedly is Kerry is posting on the forum.. (Oxygen... area of the website that you don't have to join and can lurk!)

I have not seen anything mentioned about why they supposedly leave.. Maybe I didn't lurk quite enough.. But I can only take it for 10 minute chunks... It all starts looking the same! Many of the same posters.. The forum is divided by episodes, so you might be able to glean info from there.

What news station did you hear that on?.. I've hardly been able to find anything about how the show is doing since the initial weeks debut and the bad reviews it rec'd through the various media sources..

The Reality shack website keeps recaps of all the reality shows...but the person I think that does TBGC has not kept up with it..and doesn't appear to be a big fan of the show.. So there isn't even any chatter there.. 3 recaps there from 3 of the first 4 shows.. The last being Jan. 2nd.

I know they bought in a new girl.. to replace Ripsi... But if Ty and or Leslie leave.. maybe they do bring Ripsi back.. Who knows what to believe of the rumors circulating there.. The girls were supposed to be quiet about the show so it might not even be Kerry really posting..

If Oxygen ordered 22 episodes..and they are down a third of the season already.. They don't have much time to turn the show around..

You might find that thread with the links to the Myspace accts.. (here on SOT)..You might be able to find something out there.

=====

Re:Whats up with people and Bad Girls Club

Posted by Debby - 2007/01/22 16:46

Thanks KPW. I did some checking around and can't find anything specifically about the episode clip I saw, however, I know it is a separate story from what I saw on the news today.

I found the story on CBS about racism on the British version of Big Brother. So, what I caught was the tail end of that story, not the BAd Girls show.

I guess I will have to wait for the rerun to see what transpired. IN the scene I saw, the hg, Zara, I think is her name is talking to the camera, and she says something like, she is not used to hanging out with people of different races, so she guesses she will have to go home. Maybe she was referring to being out on the town, I don't know. I thought it sounded wierd. Right after that they showed an African american male sitting with some of the hg on a couch. It was odd that she would say that because she has been throwing herself all over this guy named Tomak. He appears to be of Indian or Middle Eastern descent. She is crazy about him and it didn't seem to phase her in the least bit.

Maybe it was nothing and they just are trying to drum up some drama. I don't know. I also saw a scene that looked like some of the girls are getting ready to fight again. Good Grief. Enough of that already.

=====

Re:Whats up with people and Bad Girls Club

Posted by KPW1956 - 2007/01/22 17:05

I looked around the forum a bit... It seems that Aimee and Zara went out with Leslie to a black club. That made Zara uncomfortable.. and supposedly she went home..

Here is a link to Oxygen's area designated for BGC. Click on message boards.. if you want to glean some details.

<http://www.badgirlsclubonxygen.com/>

It looks like Oxygen shows a slew of repeats about the show..

It looks like you might be able to catch back to back shows tonight at 11 and 11:30.

Here is the schedule

<http://www.oxygen.com/schedule/>

=====