I listened to the last radio show she did, but, I thought it was for another lady's program. Is this new audition for the same show or a new one?

I was wondering that too. It sounded like it might have been for a media organization..which could possibly have more than a single station. Maybe they are trying to find a good fit for her.

She does mention in her blog that Gloria Steinem and Jane Fonda are somehow affiliated with the station or perhaps the Media Corporation.

Rhonda has added more to her blog and hasn't mentioned whether she got the radio show position. I hope it comes through for her. She seemed to be really excited about the prospect.
