re: the paternity issues around her brother and Anna Nicole's baby.

I don't think he's going to put up with her lame arguments.

I'm sure at the time this was taped, the dna issue hadn't been submitted..

Did I miss something? Do they have the results yet?

Oh no... I think even if they get the results they are going to be sealed until the next hearing scheduled on April 3. I think that will allow sufficient time and max time for Stern to appeal..

I think this will just be rehashing all the arguments that lead up to todays progress. Albeit reluctantly on some parts..
