
The American Dream Show

Posted by Debby - 2007/03/26 10:19

I am soooo excited. Donny Osmond is hosting a new show called "The American Dream Show" on ABC. I think it starts this week. The premise, I think, is that the contestants state their dream and the viewer audience calls in their choice for who should win. I saw a preview and Donny looked so fine. I suspect he may have had a little work done, which is okay. He will always be a hottie in my book.

I hope the show is good. He was starring on Broadway, but, I guess the show must have ended. I doubt he could do both at the same time.

Re:The American Dream Show

Posted by grizzlys4 - 2007/03/28 01:20

I tivoed it Debby.....when I get a chance to watch it I'll post my thoughts!!

Re:The American Dream Show

Posted by Debby - 2007/03/28 18:38

Please do Grizz. I missed it except for the last couple of minutes. Maybe I'll catch it next time. Let me know what you think.

I think one of the contestants dreamed of getting hair transplants. LOL. Not that it's funny. I think men have every right to do that if they chose. The funny thing is that I suspect Donny has had them too or that he wears a hair piece. Practically every male in the Osmond family has a receding hair line. I have always thought Donny might have had hair loss but just hid it. They even did a joke about it when he was on the Donny and Marie talk show that was on a few years ago.

Re:The American Dream Show

Posted by wish - 2007/03/28 23:23

Tell me if the show is good maybe try watch.

Re:The American Dream Show

Posted by Debby - 2007/03/29 11:09

I saw the show last night and loved it. Yeah, it's kinda cheesy, but, just watching Donny is worth it. It's kinda like a game show, but, also, like Extreme Makeover Home Edition.

Re:The American Dream Show

Posted by grizzlys4 - 2007/03/29 22:33

I was really disappointed!! It was waaay too cheesy and I guess I thought it would be more "real" instead of hair transplants and Miss America moms! And a chicken theme park???? I didn't bother watching Wed after I tried to get thru Tues show.

Re:The American Dream Show

Posted by Debby - 2007/03/30 17:20

Yeah, Grizz, Rosie gave it a terrible review on The View. She said it was horrible, although, she loves Donny. Well, I guess I'm biased. If so many people dislike it, it probably will get axed.

=====

Re:The American Dream Show

Posted by Debby - 2007/04/02 10:42

Well, poor Donny. It looks like his show is over. I feel really bad for that guy who was in the running to get a try out with a professional football team. He was cute and what a body. Oh, well. Maybe they will let them do one final show to award the winner.

=====

Re:The American Dream Show

Posted by grizzlys4 - 2007/04/04 00:34

I DID think it was weird that they didn't even announce any winner or anything?

I'm totally with you Deb on liking Donny. I remember watching the Donny and Marie show when I was a kid. I loved both of them!!!

=====

Re:The American Dream Show

Posted by Debby - 2007/04/05 11:22

I loved it and I also loved their talk show they did a few years ago. It was really good. Marie has announced that she and her husband of 20 some years is over. This is her second divorce. I would love to see them back together for some kind of talk/variety show.

=====