
Dr. Stan coming to Bad Girls Club

Hello All,

I watch the Bad girls Club (GASP:woohoo:)! The last show was tonight, and the coming attractions showed our very own Dr. Stan. Next Tuesday at 10pm Dr. Stan will have a group session with all the women. The ladies are shown calling him a Dr. Phil want a be and several other names. I think the show will be very interesting, because these are some very absorbed "ladies".

To all of them members on this board that I have bonded with though the Starting Over House, I miss hearing from you, I have cut WAAAAAAY back on the computer, but I still think about everyone. Peace Kisergurl!)

Well you have to come back and fill us in! (I don't have oxygen anymore!)

Sounds like they were being incredibly snooty about Dr. Stan..and not giving him the respect he deserves...but based on the reviews I've seen of the show... and the characters of the women.. consider the source! Maybe in some small way Bunim Murray is trying to appeal to the SO audience. If the show wrapped up... What's the purpose of bringing Dr. Stan so late in the game? Several of the ladies left altogether!

Oxygen's site indicates that they are casting for a second season and many of the ladies are present at these casting calls..including some of the women who left the show early due to conflict or whatever..

Go figure!? I sure was hoping the show would bomb totally as a revenge of sorts to Jon Murray who chose to go down that path rather than keep SO going..

I sure hope SO pulls in a couple of those daytime emmy's that it's up for this year... Even in spite of not being on the air for almost a year already!

I would love to see dr. Stan again and if I had Oxygen still I would watch it just for him! But I don't so I'll have to rely on my friends here to give a great recap!

Do the Bad Girls women really learn anything of substance through their experience ?

I'll have to make sure I watch it next week or catch again when they re-run it. It's no Starting Over but I watch the show from time to time. They run a lot of marathons so it easy to catch up on it!

YEEEEAAAAHHH. What great news! I can't wait to see Dr. Stan again. I not only respect him, but, find him a hottie. I'm going to be really ticked off if those girls disrespect him. But, he can handle himself.

Those girls must not know much about Dr. Stan's credentials. I think Dr. Phil is not of his caliber, IMO.

This must mean Dr. Stan is open to tv work again. If I had the money I would produce the show that needs to be produced. It is sooo ridiculous that such a market is being ignored, even when so many people tried to tell them. NBC and B/M are just not in the loop.

I wonder if they made any money on the Bad Girls Club. LOL.
