I'll be tuning in. I must say that I kinda miss the allstars from last season. I guess this time it will be an entire new bunch.
Do you know which month it starts?

Re:BIG BROTHER SEASON 8

I haven't gotta clue.. I'm thinking maybe July :blink: to bad they don't bring Boogie and Dr. Will back that would be awesome! :) Those two where crazy.. loved them.

Re:BIG BROTHER SEASON 8

Posted by tudin_girl - 2007/02/25 23:36

I can't wait either....it's all new people this year and seasons of the past have always started around the first week of July.

Re:BIG BROTHER SEASON 8

Posted by Debby - 2007/02/26 11:43

I liked Mike Boogie and Will too. I hope they have found some new personalities to shake things up.

Hail, hail the gang's all here...

I'm looking forward to chatting about the show... it's always interesting to see the dynamics of how the group interacts...
LOL.

Re:BIG BROTHER SEASON 8

I remember the fun parts, but, once it gets into the thick of it, I get turned off. They will start out with the same garbage about how someone broke their word or voted differently than they said they would....you know. The same old stuff. We all know it is a game for money, why, oh why do they keep on with the drama over game playing. It drives me crazy. I just hope they can look at it for what it is, a game and not get so outraged over the lies. That is just a fact of the game. The only sure thing is to trust nobody.

Of course, I guess we watch it for the drama...so a certain extent that is .

Posted by tudin_girl - 2007/03/05 21:15

Yeah I don't think it would be nearly as fascinating to watch without all the drama and whining...lol. Even though it can get on one's nerves who really wants to watch a houseful of people sit around getting along and watching the grass grow..ya know?

The only thing I really hate about bb is how time consuming it is for me...lol...between the show and the live feeds I spend way too much time on here! ;)

Posted by Debby - 2007/03/06 13:32

Yeah, but, you keep up those live feeds TudinGirl. We need those updates. LOL.

I don't mind the backstabbing and lies, bring it on...I just can't stand how insulted and righteous they get when someone pulls the wool over their eyes...HELLO. No surprise here, especially if you happen to be sleeping with the person.

Re:BIG BROTHER SEASON 8

Did you know that Julie Chen, the host of BB and also of CBS The Morning Show, is married to Les Moonves president and CEO of CBS Television? She married him in 2004 and he is 20 years older than her.

I saw a segment she and he did on the The Morning Show where they switched positions and he hosted the show and she went to the office and boardroom. I must say that I'm not sure what to think of the matter. I think I would not really want the tv audience to know who my husband was for fear it would appear I was bragging or their opinion of me would change having that information. I did kinda wonder after seeing that show.

How would she know if she is really that good to have the positions she has or is it because her husband is THE man in charge.

Posted by tudin_girl - 2007/03/16 23:19

Don't worry guys, I love talking about BB so I'll definitely be popping in regularly and giving you the scoop.

I knew that about Julie Chen and hubby. Alot of ppl at the site say that's the only reason she is where she is...she is not well liked over at the clubhouse..lol...I think they refer to her as "chenbot" or something like that.

I know Will from season 2 and the Allstars show, isn't in Season 8, but did you guys see him on Dr. Ablow today? He was on with his girlfriend. They met on some reality show, not Big Brother. The theme of the show was reality show romance. I didn't catch all of Will's interview. He looked strange to me. His hair looked really odd. Did anyone notice?

Re:BIG BROTHER SEASON 8

I enjoy it too, as long as there isn't one person that I just can't stand that is just toooo lucky. Know who I'm talking about? Her name starts with a "J". There were times I couldn't stand to watch when she was winning all the challenges. It drove me crazy. I pray that another one like her doesn't pop up again. Then maybe I can watch every episode.

Posted by Nadia - 2007/05/18 13:23

I know I couldn't stand it when "J" - Janelle was winning most of the times but hey... she did perform well in all challenges.

Can't hate her for that now could we? mmmmm maybe so. LOL

I can't wait for it to start. :)

She got on my last nerve early on and then it went down hill. I don't know what it was about her but I have never not enjoyed anyone like I did her. I'm so glad she didn't win, even though it was close. I don't think I could have took it if she had won.

I think I heard this show originated in England. Has anyone else heard this. It seems as if I heard something odd happened to the houseguest there. I can't recall the details.

I know that many of the other reality show s did as well such as American Idol. I think it was called Pop Idol or something in England.

Re:BIG BROTHER SEASON 8

Oh my goodness,I think I am the only one on here that is a Janelle fan!:ohmy: I could not stand Maggie on the prior season,so how many liked her?:lol: Debby there was a big brother over in Englad or some country,and I can't recall what the controversy was.:unsure:

Posted by Debby - 2007/05/22 12:01

I knew there were some Janelle fans here. It takes all kinds. LOL.

I guess I pull for the underdog and there must have been a personality clash with us. You know how you just don't care for some people? I don't encounter that many in my personal life. I like just about anyone unless they are mean, dishonest, or hurtful to me. Then I take issue, but, when it comes to celebs, there are just some people that rub me the wrong way.

I can't describe what it is...although I think it starts out when I don't think the person is a good actor or a good performer. Then when the media plays them up as if they are a great performer, I don't like it. Then I start disliking that person a lot....in a fun way of course. Kinda like my favorite people to diss. LOL.

I know these people are nice enough because I see them in interviews, but, I still refuse to watch them perform. I know, I know it sounds strange.

Posted by grizzlys4 - 2007/05/26 23:33

Nah.....I agree!!! When the media "pick" the one(s) they want to make a "star".....I generally do NOT agree!!!! Then, I'm out to get them!!!!!!!!!!!! :evil:

HaHa.....like anything I do could actually get them!!!! ;)

Posted by Debby - 2007/05/29 15:54

You're right Grizz. I did open my mind this past weekend in order to see a movie that had Cameron Diaz in it. I really do not enjoy her at all. I have disliked her acting in every role. I forced myself to watch the movie where she plays Shirley McClaine's granddaughter last year. I could barely get through it because I disliked her so much. However, I loved The Holiday with Kate Winslet, Judd Law, Jack Black and of course Cameron. I couldn't help but LOVE the movie, despite her.

If you get a chance, rent the movie, it's really good....great message....great love stories and funny.

You know when you think about it, Janelle and Cameron aren't that different do you think?

Posted by Debby - 2007/05/31 10:53

This may be off topic, but while you're recuperating, also check out Little Children. It's another Kate Winslete movie. It is GREAT. I watched it about 3 times. It got some Oscar nominations, but not sure if they won any. It's about 3 different families. Warning, while it's about children, it is not suitable for children....a couple of short but very hot love scenes involving the parents, not the children.

I have seen bits and pieces of the show so far. The father/daughter thing seemed really odd to me. The father reminds me of Tommy Lee. LOL.

There's one girl whose voice gets on my last nerve....very high and whiney. I can't take that. So far nobody else who has turned me off, except it looks like some really pouters on board.

Sorry I haven't been her to keep you updated on live feeds but I've been very ill and just got out of the hospital..haven't even checked on the feeds.

Will give you guys updates as soon as I get back into the swing of things.

I did see that the daughter (blonde with dad in house) won veto, which will air tonight.

And I don't think we had any problems with this last season but should we do a thread with spoilers only? Any of us who watch what the live feed posters reports do get spoilers and I love sharing them but I don't want to ruin it for anyone.

I find that I am watching more of the Discovery shows or Animal Planet. I love the Planet Earth series.

I've also burned out on the Sell This House type show. I'm still trying to find out how you can redo your living room by buying 4 large candles, a large vase of flowers, a bowl of fruit, a gallon of paint, new hardware for the doors, and an area rug for $59.00. Where I am from large candles cost about $10.00-$12.00 each! Flowers also aren't cheap. I'd like to know how they can find that stuff so cheap. Not around here. LOL.

I think people are starting to get burnt out on "Reality Shows" and are going back to the "Drama" or the "History and Learning" channels. I know that I can only watch so much of "reality" I live it every day.....don't really want to see it on TV all the time!!

Plus....I don't have cable or any ditial.....so I am limited!!

It's Jessica with the high and verrrrrrrry whiny voice.....just wait until Eric watches the shows.....yes there's a very GOOD reason America wants you to vote her out!!! Jen IS completely self-centered enough to drive anyone batty!!! But.....I guess that's what Reality shows are partly about!! LOL

Hmmmm.....what will happen?? I think Evil has a good heart.....BOY DOES THAT SOUND LOONY.....:woohoo: :woohoo: :P :P I think he really wants a better relationship with his daughter.....but doesn't anyone realize after all these shows and all these years.....that's not the forum to do that???? Oh well.....I hope the two of them do get something out of it.

Me??? It's just entertainment.....oh and I hear ya Debby.....I think they shop special kinds of warehouses and stuff for those Sell Your House shows.....even shopping sales I can't find the deals they show!!!!

Re:Big Brother 8

Posted by Debby - 2007/07/16 12:39

Well it looks like it's between father and daughter. Dad says he won't campaign against his daughter. I think keeping them both would have made a more interesting show.

I couldn't watch all of the show last night. Maybe I'm just too old for these people, but they just don't seem to be very interesting the way the previous houseguests have been. Who selected these people? I think they could have done much better.

Anyone know how the ratings are so far?

Re:Big Brother 8

Posted by tudin_girl - 2007/07/20 23:40

Hi guys, first off thanks for all the well wishes and good thoughts. After another short stay in the hospital I am home again and on the mend for sure this time.....fingers crossed. :)

I just checked the feeds briefly tonight and it seems Dick has put up Jen and Kail.....big surprise right? lol Apparently sometime this evening Dick and Amber kind of got into it because of Amber's emotional playing. It appears that Dustin, Amber, Dick, and Danielle are in an alliance, even if it's just implied for now...and he was upset because I think Mike called him on it.

Kail, Mike, Zach, and Nick's alliance has been completely blown out of the water and I'm going to try to read backwards and find out what happened after the votes....Kail being the only one in her alliance to vote to evict Dick.

They've just given the houseguests beer and that's almost always a recipe for disaster so it could be an interesting night.

Will let ya'll know as soon as I do who wins POV.

Re:Big Brother 8

Welcome back Tudin... glad you are feeling better.

Last week I finally got into the show... it was great that father and daughter are still there... although I'm not a fan of the dad... he sounds like a verbal bully.

What's the story on America's player... what does Eric get out of it? Anyone know?

Re:Big Brother 8

Posted by tudin_girl - 2007/07/22 19:59

Didn't have much time to read the posts today, but Jen did win POV....talk of putting up Mike or Zach as replacement but it appears the majority still wants Kail out.

Getting ready to watch the show will try to read more posts tomorrow.

Re:Big Brother 8

Posted by Debby - 2007/07/23 14:35

Okay, what happened. When I watched last week that girl had nominated the father/daughter pair. I tuned in last night and got on the phone and missed it. What happened. I tried to get info from the website and can't. Who went home?

Re:Big Brother 8

Posted by tudin_girl - 2007/07/24 00:28

Debby, Jen nominated Dick and Danielle (father/daughter) Danielle won POV and took herself off the block....Jen then put up Joe in her place and Joe was evicted by a vote of 9/1.

This week Jen and Kail were nominated and Jen has won POV. She has removed herself from the block and Dick put up Mike in her place.

There were some heated arguments between Danielle and Dick and Amber and Dick but for the life of me I can't really figure them out.

The one between D/D seemed to be Danielle telling her dad that he was on a power trip and him saying that he wasn't, that she was the one going around telling everyone that if they messed with her she would have her dad get them evicted. She says she didn't say that.....he says he doesn't like her attitude.....blah blah.

The one with Amber appeared to be something to the effect that she thought Dick was saying he didn't trust her, she of course started her crying tirade and getting overly emotional, which is outting their "alliance" and it's pissing him off.

They celebrated Jameka's bday lastnight and I guess shortly after the party these arguments took place. It also looked like Dick and Nick got into it, with Nick basically telling Dick he could either trust him or not he really didn't care.

It appears to be peaceful in the house tonight but I can't figure out how the house is wanting to vote. Last I heard Dick still wanted Kail out.....will post more tomorrow.

ETA: Someone had asked what Eric gets for being America's player....according to the CBS site for every 5 tasks he completes successfully he'll get 10,000. Not a bad gig for him huh? :-)

Dustin has nominated Kail and Jen.

Jen apparently didn't take it too well (crying)...Kail seemed to do better with it, but Dustin had a talk with her in HOH and told her she was a pawn.

From what I can gather he is fine with either Jen or Kail going home, and if the POV is used he wants to put up Zach and get him out of the house.

Really not a whole lot going on in the house...Dick, Dustin, Amber, and Eric appear to be in some unspoken alliance. They have late night chats. Oh I think Danielle and Jamkea may be in that..I guess the main focus of the house is to get out Kail, Jen, Zach, and Nick.

Boy is Dick getting on peoples nerves!! I did have to laugh when he was HOH and went into the bathroom to "relieve" himself and then use the air spray!! Cracked me up.....and then making the remarks to Jenn about her "bussium"!!!

I was impressed with him when he tried to talk to Danielle. He is trying some and still has a way to go.....but so does she.

Tuesday will find out more!!

Dick is a character, however, I seem to relate to him more so than the others for some reason. Maybe it's because he seems older somehow.

This season I have had a harder time connecting to the houseguests.

Once I got past the age thing... I'm able to concentrate on the people and the choices they make which I find very interesting. I seem to gravitate towards the underdog... LOL... wonder why. I love and appreciate a housemate who actually has some sort of strategy vs dumb luck and nasty behavior.

Dick is my least favorite housemate... I see him as a verbal abusive bully. Eric is my favorite so far.

Re:Big Brother 8

Danielle has won HOH.

When I "tuned" in it was down to Kail, Jen, and Danielle. Apparently Jen got disqualified for touching a bar, and then Kail turned around and made some sort of deal with Danielle that she wouldn't put her up this week.

Re:Big Brother 8

Posted by mazzy - 2007/08/03 18:58

Kail made a smart move by making the deal with Danielle, however, she threw Jen under the bus... surprise, surprise.

Jen is an extremely self involved person, however, I thought she was smarter than she appears to be... until she failed to get Dick out when she had the chance.

Dustin's behavior turned me off to him this week... not the fact that he chose to take the prizes, but his creepy behavior, and of course Dick is continuing to turn me off. He is such a nasty bully. Not nice what he did to Jen with the ice tea over her head. I actually felt sorry for Jen when she and Danielle had words... I don't think it was necessary for Nick and Dick to jump into the fray. Oh well... I keep expecting them to behave... maybe they could start their own show and call it Bad Girls and Boys... LOL... what a group Big Brother chose to put together... LOL.

I don't think it's ever a good idea to trust those "deals" being made in stressful (comps) situations. Remember Kaysar's infamous move letting go of that button? If I was Kail I would have stayed until I just couldn't take it anymore.

Noms have been done and it appears Kail and Jen have been nominated yet again!!!! LOL..there is some talk of backdooring someone if veto is used but I haven't figured out who they want to backdoor. I did read that they mentioned Eric as they are now suspecting he is those mysterious votes.

Danielle and Dick are kicking themselves for letting Nick get voted out because they are pretty sure he is innocent of that vote now. LOL

I agree that it's not a good idea to trust those "deals" LOL, but it seems that everyone would rather see Jen go over Kail. Kail will probably go with the flow since she does not have a strong alliance to back her... Jen on the other hand is a total wild card... if the powers that be are smart... Jen needs to go.

Re:Big Brother 8

Posted by tudin_girl - 2007/08/05 23:43

Jen has won POV.

Apparently the POV comp had the hg bidding on different things. I read that Jameka and Kail gave up the chance to be HOH for 5 weeks...Jen and Kail (I think) on slop for a month...A few of them had to get something dumped on their head every hour for 24 hours..and some are having to wear a bunny suit. I think Jameka must have also taken some prize money during this comp because afterwards she is shown praying to God for forgiveness.

From what I can decipher Danielle wants Jen to use the veto on herself and she will put Eric up in her place. She's not sure if the house will vote to evict Eric but will be satisfied if either Eric or Kail go at this point.

I saw an article, I can't remember where, that said Jewish organizations were up in arms over antisemitic statements made by a hg. It wasn't clear what if anything they were asking CBS to do. Kick her out. Did you see it? Not sure if it was part of the broadcasted show or live feed.

The hg said Jewish people were selfish, had odd last names and large noses. I was pretty shocked to hear this.

I was surprised to see Delila on BB last night. She is a former contestant on the rock talent show "Super Nova." Did any of you see that show? Tommy Lee host the show, which is funny because from the beginning I said that Dick resembled Tommy Lee.

Re:Big Brother 8

Posted by tudin_girl - 2007/08/12 02:33

Amber was the one who said the anti semitic comments. I believe Fox news had a thing about it.

Danielle and Dick have been nominated....big surprise right? Yawn. Dick won POV.

His plan since being nominated is to piss off the rest of the house so much they will evict him so that Danielle can stay in the game. He says he will use the POV to pull her off the block.

There has been so much fighting and name calling and backstabbing in the house this week it really is comical to watch. The site I frequent during BB seasons is really divided and taking so much of this personally. I think they forget it's a game.

Jameka and Amber followed Dick around for a little while after his noms and goaded him (not too difficult) into a fight, in which Jameka called Dick's mom a B*. Eric has continually made comments about how he thinks Dick and Danielle have an incestuous relationship (YUCK) and Zach and Jen are kind of just floating between the two sides trying to fit in somewhere.

Dick has done his best today to try and get under people's skin, but it appears for the most part he is being ignored.

I would just like to say for the record that I cannot stand Jameka or Amber. IMO they are the worst of the worst. Jameka for all her 'holier than thou" attitude and Amber's hypocritical behavior. I have taken offense to some of the things that Dick has said (most of which never made the show) but at least he is right out there and you don't wonder what he's saying behind your back or hiding behind his religion.

This has been one of the roughest seasons for me to find a player that I am really rooting for to make it to the end. I think for now I am actually pulling for Jen and Zach. I think Jen (and I couldn't stand her at first) has actually handled herself, for the most part, (I didn't agree with her "moral" speech to Danielle) pretty well considering, and poor Zach.....I just feel sorry for the guy...he seems like such a misfit.

Anyhoo, that's about all that's going on in the house. The next person voted out (this thursday) will be the first person going to the jury house.

BTW, there has been talk by Jessica, Eric, Dustin, Amber, Jameka (they're all in a group) to put Dustin up as a pawn against Dick (if Dick uses the veto to pull Danielle off)....that could be very risky for them. For one, Eric has to vote how America tells them to..so that would be for Dustin most likely. IF Jen and Zach stay voting with D/D that would make the votes to evict Dustin: Danielle, Zach, Jen, Eric and the votes to evict Dick: Jameka and Amber.

They should do POV ceremony tomorrow and I'll try to post back.

Re:Big Brother 8

Posted by mazzy - 2007/08/12 12:57

tudin_girl... thanks for the update.

I keep switching who I'm rooting for... they all are distasteful characters... with very negative traits.

I started out rooting for Eric... he seemed to be at a disadvantage because of being America's Player, and earlier on he seemed to have influence when he talked strategy. However, even though I'm not an Amber fan... he turned me off when he told Dick something about using a confidence on Amber that she confided to him. He has gotten too gossipy for my taste, and seems to lie unnecessarily.

I find I'm also starting to root for Jen... she is smart and although extremely self involved she seems decent.

Tudin.....I was thinking the same thing about how much these folks are taking everything very personally like they're being betrayed by their best friends.....it's a game!! And although I despise much of the MOUTHS that these guys have.....I know they're each trying to win $$$$ and yet they each complain when somebody is being "selfish" or something.....

Re:Big Brother 8

Posted by tudin_girl - 2007/08/18 23:50

Well Jameka and Amber have been nominated. I have to say that none of the nominations this season have shocked me at all. They've done POV and Danielle won. I'm not sure what it consisted of but from what the feeds are saying Danielle, Amber, and maybe Jessica have won a trip out somewhere.

Thursday night's show was absolutely priceless. I was laughing so hard at Dustin's face when he got evicted. It was crazy of him to ever volunteer to be put up as a replacement and he should have known better. He got too arrogant and he deserved to be evicted. I didn't like him anyway...lol

I have to say I am one of "those people" who likes Dick. I do NOT agree with everything he says or does, but I really would rather be in that house with someone who I knew where they stood then the lying scheming Jameka and Amber. It's obvious to me that he is regretful for his lack of fathering with Danielle and that he really cares for her. She, on the other hand, is behaving like a spoiled brat. She whines and complains everytime things are not going her way and Dick tries and tries to comfort her and she just won't have anything to do with it. Before Dustin's eviction Danielle was kissing Jen's a$$ and saying she had her back.....now all she can talk about (now that she still has Daddy in the house) is how Jen annoys her and she wants her gone.

I'm curious to see if she'll use the POV and remove one of them to put Jen up. I'm kind of pulling for Jen at this point. I couldn't stand her when I first saw her but I think she has handled Dick very well and is very smart..alot smarter than she lets on.

Re:Big Brother 8

Posted by mazzy - 2007/08/19 17:05

I like Jen... she is smart, however, she had a rocky start because she was obviously unable to control her jealous feelings about the Nick and Dani situation.

She is extremely self involved... most people her age are, however, I see her going to the extreme... which of course is not a likable quality. She may even learn something about her behavior when she sees herself on TV... if she can get past how she looks in each scene... LOL.

Re:Big Brother 8

Posted by tudin_girl - 2007/08/20 21:45

I'm afraid it looks like the end for Jen.

She has been put up as a replacement and the plan is to get her out. I have to say this is one of the most boring weeks in the house. Danielle had planned on putting up Jen when she nominated Amber and Jameka....so nothing really exciting has happened.

When I checked in earlier Amber and Danielle were getting ready for their outing...they aren't sure when they are leaving, I think BB told them within 24 hours but I guess they have to be ready at a moments notice. No idea of where they're going yet.

Re:Big Brother 8

Posted by mazzy - 2007/08/21 11:17

Wow... I just checked out BB 8 talk... seems there is a you tube video on re a verbal argument between the Dick and Jen... no holds bared... he opened up such a filthy mouth to her... verbally what I would expect from him. Jen for her part should have walked away and ignored him.

Seems that after she was put on the block she told D & D that they would not get her final vote from the jury house... she poured bleach on the Dick's cigarettes... she ate even though she is on slop... penalty being is that she will automatically be nominated next week according to BB rules.

Tudin_girl... looks like you are right... the end is coming for Jen.

Re:Big Brother 8

Not so fast... revise my last post... LOL... looks like there is talk of getting Jameka voted out instead of Jen... LOL. According to the blogs... the house feels safe with Jen staying for another week because the penalty for eating food when she was on slop is a Penalty Nomination and I believe that may include not being eligible for playing for POV.

LOL... the blogs are quite entertaining... LOL... looking forward to Thursday's show.

I guess it's never over till it's over... LOL.

Re:Big Brother 8

I haven't been able to find anything that confirms Jen got a penalty nom for eating or the conditions.

It was said that she DID get one and that excluded her from competing for HOH or POV....so the plan switched (with only Zach and Dick talking so far) of voting out Jameka this week and Jen next. BUT then it was said that Jen could compete for POV so that threw a wrench in the plan of Jameka out this week.

Apparently not only did Jen destroy some of Dick's property (cigs) she then lightly (I don't think seriously) slapped him or at him when he was smoking beside her. Jameka is pretty upset (as a matter of fact the whole house is) that Jen has broken the slop rule while others are abiding by it (namely Jameka, since she is on the block and slop too).

I'm curious to see how this all plays because it's not come up before in BB. There's always been threats of pen noms but it hasn't happened. Amber and Danielle should get back soon and once everyone has grouped together and talked we should be able to figure out more of what is going down.

Just wanted to add too that I think if I had been Danielle, strategically I would have taken down Jameka (since she can't compete in HOH for 3 more weeks) and left Amber up JUST IN CASE the house decided not to vote Jen out.

I agree... strategically it would have made more sense to keep Amber on the block, however, Danielle ended up making a good deal for herself... seems that in order to stay in the house Amber was willing to agree with Danielle's request... correction... way more than what Danielle asked for... desperation just gripped Amber and she lost it... is now willing to vote anyone and everyone under the bus. The sad part is... is that Danielle was planning to back door Jen anyway.

Per the blogs... seems there is some confusion re penalty nomination vs penalty vote... if Jen stays I believe she may be able to compete in the POV... seems the producers may have decided to rectify penalty so as not to unjustly affect Jameka. The loophole that Jen discovered by eating when she was on slop may have kept her in the game and others may try it in the future as a strategy.

So... to make a long post longer... seems that the house is looking to out Jen again, therefore, Jameka may be safe.

Jen was voted out.

The Dick was his usual verbally abusive self... he's such a bully.

Eric made a foolish comment to Jen as she exited... did he forget that she has a vote in the Jury House... and he made no attempt to say good bye. I think the Dick is starting to rub off on him.

Zack had a pained look on his face... re the bad behavior of the HG... he may be the last nice guy in the house.

Happy to see Jessica with HOH... no double cross from the D/D family... hope Eric gets it next week. Would like to see Jessica and Eric as final two.

Jess nominated Amber and Zach.

I think Jen's comment to Jameka about her being jealous cuz Jen was eating (Jameka still on slop) when Jen broke the food restriction rule was very cold. Slop was very hard on Jameka, and even though I don't like Jameka I thought it was a cruel thing to do.

I think this season may have brought out the worst in everyone... it's sad to see...

I think CBS has exhibited an all time low in showing the humiliation and verbal abuse that it has allowed.

I'd like to see Amber leave this week... Jameka next... then Zack.

It would be interesting to see the remaining HGs duke it out, however, my vote still goes to Eric and Jessica. Jessica may have hooked up with Eric because he is good at playing the game, but she really gets credit for not antagonizing the evicted HGs and playing a relatively clean game.

Eric didn't use POV. I think Amber will be leaving...whew, thank goodness or God whichever you prefer....lol

I think Jessica and Eric are cute....mainly because I think they really like each other. I think Eric is so shy and afraid to put on too much of a move (if he even knows how to put moves on) but just from hearing about them on the live feeds and seeing the show I do think the two have a serious crush on each other. I believe him 100% when he says he wants to take Jessica to final 2.

Danielle is really getting on Dick's nerves lately. She seems to be the one irritating him right now more than anyone else in the house. She can be soooooo frrrrruuusstratting (picture Danielle in her infamous whine).....lol

I think Eric and Jessica are cute also and that they like each other but do they LIKE each other? I'm just not feeling it. They do spend nearly all of their time together but I'm not seeing any of that new or young love spark. They act more like a couple that has been together for 25 years than a new couple. I've wondered if it's the cameras that are keeping them from really acting like a couple or if, in the end, they will be best friends.

Eric's voice changes when he talks to Jess but she doesn't act any differently toward Eric than she does anyone else in the house. I watch the live feeds. If I'm missing something, someone please point it out. I love a good love story!;

Rumors that I found flying around the net...

First rumor: Eric's long-distance girlfriend It's Carol?Eric doesn't know it he has never met this other woman. (don't you think they would have sent eachother their pictures??) I don't know....anyhoo second rumor: Jen knows all about America's Player and has for weeks. Jen spotted the card producers leave for Eric every few days. Big Brother producers scrambled to offer an explanation, and this is why she refers to him as "Mr. America." The rumor suggests that Jen doesn't know the specifics of what America's Player does just that he's part of the twist third rumor : -Dick doesn't have just one daughter in the house. He has two. And it's Jen. The rumor spreader on this one says that Jen knows Dick is her biological father and that the main reason she moved her mom's photos out of the way when she won HoH is that she didn't want Dick to recognize her. Word is that Jen's mother is so distraught over Dick's behavior toward Jen that she has literally begged CBS not to reveal this.

I don't know if I can believe this last rumor. I guess will have to wait and see however if this is true I'd feel sorry for Jen for the fact of all the terrible things Dick's done/said to her.

Oh wow. I was wondering who ended up winning HOH. You must have been watching the live feed. Thank you so much for the info, Mazzy. I agree that D & D should be put up. It will be very interesting because they revealed to the viewers that there will be two evictions next Thursday.

I liked Amber but way too many tears. Drive me crazy. She even cried on the Power of 10! Bye Amber.

Eric and Jessica are cute together. And they showed Eric's on/off ex-girlfriend on the show. They were off when he went into the house and have been on and off for something like 4 years. So he isn't exactly cheating when he's kissing Jess.

Jameka and Jessica have been nominated...

Was it a huge mistake for Jessica to target Zack last week instead of the D/D alliance? LOL... too late now.

Seems I'm hearing good old Daniele talking trash to Zack... surprise... surprise. I think at this point... everyone who is seriously thinking of getting to the finals has the best chance going with either Eric or the Dick. Everyone at the sequester house hates them both... LOL.

Re:Big Brother 8

Posted by tudin_girl - 2007/09/01 12:13

Danielle won POV. So far she has no plans of using it, but they are back and forth on which one to vote out this week.

I thought it was interesting that Eric's brothers seemed in favor of his relationship (to continue outside the house) with Jessica. That tells me Eric is telling the truth about not being involved with this Cheryl. I thought she seemed the type to only be interested in him again because he was interested in someone else. He had, or his brothers, said that Eric did try to get back together with her weeks before the show and she said no. I think we don't see major sparks between Eric and Jessica because they are both, at least in the back of their mind, wondering if they're getting played by the other...re: mike and erica. BUT I don't think Eric is much of a "ladies man" and is quite shy....and Jessica seems to be the type of girl who lets the man pursue.

I like Jessica, but strategically they do need to get her out this week...I don't see how anyone could win against her in the end. Jameka would need to go next as she could probably get the jury votes.

The end is going to be very interesting with the most disliked sitting in final four or three.

I don't believe the rumors that have been posted among various boards.

Re:Big Brother 8

Posted by mazzy - 2007/09/01 12:47

I think Daniele will not use the POV... it would be to her advantage to get out first Jameka... then Zack... then Jessica.

I hope Eric does not volunteer to be put up... these days it appears to be a definite way to go bye bye.

If Daniele goes after Jessica this week... she will lose Eric... who may team up with Jameka and Zack against the D/D alliance.

I wonder if Jameka would have lasted as long as she did if she was in a position to compete... it just may have kept her in the game longer because she is not perceived as a threat.

Re:Big Brother 8

Posted by DrStanFan - 2007/09/01 16:59

It will be interesting to hear the chatter that goes on during the next few days regarding the use of the POV. From what I heard previously the plan was to leave the noms the same if someone other than Jess or Jam won it and vote Jam out. We'll see if Dick and Dani decide they'd rather get the strong player out now and go against their alliance with Eric and Jess. My gut feeling is that Dick will remain true to his word but one never knows.

Then of course there is the double eviction and it should be interesting to see who else goes home on Thursday night. I'm hoping for Zach. I would love to see the 4 strongest players battle it out in the final 4.

I think these last two days Eric has shown by facial expression and mood that he is really in love with Jess at this point. She seems rather reserved although she did bring a case of condoms with her!

I'm hoping that Eric, Jameka and Zack will go against the D/D alliance, however, if it is a double eviction... they may not have time to plan.

LOL... looks like we are getting to the end... LOL... expect the unexpected... LOL.

Re:Big Brother 8

Posted by tudin_girl - 2007/09/03 16:36

Dick just asked Jameka to talk in the backyard and told her he felt it was the right thing to do to tell her she was going home on Thursday. She thanked him for the heads up...BUT from what I've been reading this is a plan by D/D to mess with Jameka's head and make Jessica feel safe. They had previously talked about getting Jameka an hour before the live show starts and telling her they would keep her if she was willing to make a deal...and they would evict Jessica.

I really don't want to see Jessica go...as a houseguest who I thought I really would not be able to stand I've really grown to like her and think she's done pretty good in this game.

The double eviction is really going to shake things up depending on who gets HOH and if they're able to think quickly on their feet.

Eric vs Janelle...

Do people on reality shows forget they are on TV... seems to me that if you have nothing nice to say... one should keep their mouth shut... LOL... Eric did not follow this golden rule several times this season... re Janelle/Miss Piggy comment... one more of his recent verbal blunders.

Of course he is not the only one... LOL. The Dick and Amber quickly come to mind... LOL.

Zack won HOH... seems he is coming into his own... wonder if he kept a low profile... so as not to be a threat.

I would love for him to put up the D/D alliance... they've been a bit too cocky lately. Would love to see Daniele go next... then the Dick... LOL... I guess I want to see Jameka and Zack in final two with Jameka taking it all.

Everyone in the Jury House likes Jameka.....so I think they will vote for her.....when Jess and Eric goes to the Jury House they will tell them all about what has happened and how Zack was a "butt"!!

I wonder why they are not showing the Jury House as they did in the past. I read somewhere that some people found out where it was and tried to get info to the players.....don't know if it is true....just a rumor!!

Although it would be interesting to see how the Jury House is doing!! Guess we will all have to wait and see.....

EXTRA EXTRA READ ALL ABOUT IT:

Zach has nominated Dick and Danielle.

LOL, seriously though, nominations at this point really don't mean anything. The ONLY thing that matters is POV. If either Dick or Danielle win POV (which is a good possibility) they will remove themselves, be the sole voter, which means Jameka will go.

BUT...if Jameka or Zach win POV noms will stay the same and Danielle will be voted out (which I would LOVE to see). This is per Zach and Jameka's conversations throughout the day.

I'm still hoping for a Zach/Dick final two and it could happen!!

I'm not so sure Dick doesn't stand a good chance against Zach or Danielle in F2. Alot of those juror members thought Zach just floated his way through the game, which seems to be despised by most BB players. Although I've never understood this..I figure whatever gets them to the end..but hey that's just me.

I definitely think Dick will win over Danielle. I just have a feeling this jury is really going to sock it to Danielle if she's in final 2.

I also think floating is a strategy... whatever gets one to the end... playing on ones' strengths... physical or mental, however, the exception for me is the verbal abuse the Dick displayed... I personally cannot forgive his behavior.

Danielle played a good physical game... she seemed to come through with her wins... HOH... POV... she played Zack perfectly at the end... she used her dad to play the bad guy... crying that she was being blamed for his behavior.

The Dick is a 44 year old man who should know better... his verbal attacks went over the line re civilized behavior... it was painful to watch at times... even though it was cleaned up for general TV. Some of the you tube clips on the Internet caught such awful rage and disrespect as he ranted... not nice.

Zack started coming into his own towards the end of the game, however, he made a mistake not getting rid of Danielle over Eric... Danielle is proving to be too much of a physical challenge for him... certainly more so than Eric would have been... LOL.

Getting close to the end... it is always interesting to see how the people on the jury will vote... would love to be a fly on the wall in the sequester house... LOL.

I too, have watched this video a couple of times and didn't see a thing! I do believe that a ball did bounce in her tube! It's a one in a million thing that does happen!! Or could it be that Dick put it there!! In the video he seems so concerned and then in the kitchen he is just sitting here like a kid who has done wrong!!

Who knows??!!! Jameka did play a good game and did leave gracefully.....I wouldn't have expected anything else from her!! She tried her hardest.....Now if it was Dick who was leaving there would have been alot of "bleeps" going on!!

We will see tonight!

I got a clue from the chat boards. The slow motion shows Dick with a blue ball in his hand and possibly starting to put it in his pocket. :evil: :dry:

I have to say that I thought Jameka was gracious throughout. In the beginning she said she was worried about representing African Americans well. I think she represented humankind very well. I would choose her for a friend any day and I wish more people were like her in the world.

Sunday's show will be a sort of highlight to the season and I'm hoping more of the jury house.

In the matter of the Dick and the ball in his pocket I, along with several others, thought that he was in fact putting a ball in his pocket...and I had thought he was going to collect them that way and then put them in his tube, but in fact it was a necklace he was wearing that broke during the comp that he put into his pocket. Several people watched this and agreed it was his necklace and that he had even mentioned it to BB.

I'm not really sure if the mysterious ball was ever explained or if it will be mentioned again, but I had wondered if Jameka didn't accidentally (in all the commotion and pressure) put the ball in the tube...if she didn't I think it had to be a freak thing where it actually bounced in on it's own. I don't believe for one minute that another player would be allowed to get away with doing that to her in the comp.

I'm looking forward to the questions on Tuesday night...although it will be the same as every year...the "losers" whining because they were betrayed.....when in reality they would have betrayed also if they had been given the chance to do it before the others did (with a few exceptions). It's really the part that bothers me every season...listening to the jury whine...lol

I hear what you are saying re jury whine, however, this year... more than any other year... the jury had a chance to break up the D/D alliance several times and because of one reason or another chose not to. AP had a certain amount of influence, but common sense should push to always break up an obvious double team alliance.

LOL... this year the whine will probably be... I should have...

Re:Big Brother 8

Posted by tudin_girl - 2007/09/16 22:53

They've had the jury ask their questions...we don't know the questions that were asked but Danielle left the experience really pissed off at the jury and at her dad. Big surprise.....!!! NOT.

She accused Dick of campaigning against her to win the money (HOW DARE HE) and that the jury was too hard on her, accusing her of riding his coat tails and such.

SO...she's now mad at Dick YET AGAIN and didn't speak to him for 12+ hours...that I know of. They spent alot of time sleeping, well her in bed and him in the backyard talking to himself.

Whatever Amber's question was made both Dick and Danielle mad though, so I can't wait until Tuesday.

And I agree with you 100% Mazzy, Dick and Danielle were a KNOWN alliance from DAY ONE....no matter what that should have been the common goal of the house until they were either both gone or at least split up.

I can't wait for Survivor either. China is going to be awesome to watch!

I am looking forward to Tuesday night and finding out who will win. There is a meeting at school, but I told them not to expect me. I'm watching Big Brother 8!!!!

What do you all think????????????????????

This I know.....Dani keeps saying how everyone doesn't believe her but she's really happy because they both won and it makes no difference who won the top prize. Ooooooooooooooooookay.....but didn't you just get mad at your father and accuse him of campaigning to win the money???? OH man have I never seen such a whiny little selfish brat!! Everyone else is bad for doing the same (or not even half as bad) as she does.....but she's the best player????? Oh brother!!!! (as in, Big Brother ;))

Dick.....oh well.....I guess it doesn't matter to me who won.....didn't like either one of them. But for the America's vote.....I don't think D and D would have made final 2.

Lemmee hear what you all think!!!!

I always liked Dick, was disappointed in him at times, but still liked him. I think he was able to get to the end with America's help...he does have quite a fan base.

I never liked Danielle...never. Still don't. From the interviews I've read it does appear she is behaving better than I would have ever give her credit for.

There will be highlights from a person who attends the wrap party, or there have been most years, if anyone is interested I will copy it here when it's posted.

Here are some after interviews with different hg's I thought you might like to read.

Dick had some endearing qualities (I love a man who can cook) but I'm not sure they outweighed his oftentimes vile behavior.

The past two years have been a letdown for me as far as who the final two were but I'll still be hanging on tender hooks while waiting for next season.

I find it very hard to believe that Dani was okay with everything in the end. Possibly she hid it well during interviews and then imploded while the cameras were gone. I can only imagine how upset she was to find out that AMERICA did not want her to win!

I thought all the ladies looked beautiful on finale night!

I still wonder what Jessica will think when she finds out about the Woobie.

Good luck to the world when Dick starts his tour. :huh:

Yeah it's very possible Danielle is only appearing to be ok during the interviews...she's not really that good at hiding her emotions, IMO, but I do think after she has had time to read what ALOT of viewers really thought about her she will indeed have a great big pity party.

Dick was really domestic wasn't he? LOL, his cooking, cleaning and laundry surprised me.

I liked the way he was friends with Zach in the beginning when nobody else would give Zach the time of day. I liked how he was concerned about Danielle eating and taking her vitamins. I liked how when he had thought he had offended Jameka in a conversation they were having at the dining room table he went in to talk to her in the room later and apologized if had offended her. I liked that when Dick smiled his eyes smiled too.

I really am rooting for Jessica and Eric to at least remain really good friends. I hope she will realize that he really did always have her best interest at heart even though he didn't always make the best decisions (some that were out of his control)

ETA: They are replaying the feeds...that is what reminded me of Dick befriending Zach in the beginning. Another thing that came to mind about Dick and Danielle. Even with all the nasty things Dick has said I don't think he is as "mean spirited" as Danielle is. This became evident to me when Zach had his HOH. At the end of their reign they get to have a camera to take pics of everyone (posted at CBS) and Danielle was being particularly snotty on that day and told Dick that she thought it would be hilarious if nobody would participate in Zach's pictures. Dick told her that would be mean and that he was excited about his hoh and they should all take the pics with him. She continued to say how she thought it would be so funny...he continued his argument that it wouldn't be. Eventually she did give in and participate, somewhat begrudgingly. Another time she showed her mean streak was encouraging her dad to go "off" on Zach during that endurance HOH. I think Dick was actually so mean with Zach because he was desperate to throw Zach out because he couldn't stand seeing his daughter shaking, cold, and crying.

I've never understood why no one liked Zach for the most part aside from one comment I heard him make early on that didn't sit well with me. Otherwise he seemed like a personable guy and someone I might befriend in real life.

Another thing I forgot to mention is what a sad feeling it is when the credits roll after the final show after I've spent three months, 24/7, watching it. It wasn't sad enough, however, to cause me to watch the live feeds all over again.

Bring on Survivor!

It didn't surprise me at all that Dick won. He played the game very, very well. He does owe his win to America's Player, because I believe that he would have been out instead of Dustin if Eric hadn't swayed everyone's vote. Dick won with getting to know Danielle better, too. That was probably the thing that mattered the most. Too bad she was bitter about how he answered questions. I wonder if she expected him to try to get her to win instead of her? hhhmmm :blink:

Dick played the game and we (who voted) had helped him! Especially with voting Dustin out. Dick played the game with and without our help. He was rude and crude.....it's the game and it's only a game!!

I think that the biggest reward to Dick and Danile is that they communicated and somewhat got along. That is worth more than the money.....but IMO Daniele probably would have liked the 1/2 mil more!! They did moan and groan that there was no car winning or bigger prizes that BB had in the past. Dustin won a trip and cash. Eric won money.....it just didn't go to the D/D group!!

Well it's now over. Maybe Dick will see how he acted and clean it up a little.....we can only hope. His personality suits him and where and who he hangs with.....

It was an enjoyable show, although I enjoyed the past ones better! Guess it's hard to top the past shows.

Tudin_girl... I would love to hear about highlights from the wrap party... thanks for the link to the interviews.

LOL... Tuesday night was fun to watch... even though I was never a D/D fan. The questions from the jury were sweet revenge, however, the D/D alliance is now probably laughing all the way to the bank.

Here is a link to a set of 10 wrap party photos. I'll let you know if I find more and I hope others do, too. I expected Janie to have some on her website but it seems to have been taken down. :(
